Achieve! Instant Lessons

Quality ready-to-use resources

Each book in the Achieve! series has been designed and written for students who have low-level literacy skills and require modified classroom activities to fully participate in the curriculum. Students will experience success as they work alongside their classmates in the same subjects with material that is tailored for their literacy needs.

Key features

- ✓ Mature-look page layout and illustrations
- ✓ Topics that will interest teenagers
- ✓ An emphasis on literacy skills
- ✓ Clear learning objectives
- ✓ An extensive range of engaging and authentic primary sources

The work sheets in this series are ideal for group or individual study and are easy for classroom helpers to implement in one-on-one lessons. You can also use the units of work for revision, assessment and home study.

Achieve! History Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources

Making a nation – Australia 1750–1918

While very suitable for the regular classroom, the Achieve! series of History titles has been written at a literacy level that is appropriate for students who, because of poor reading skills, may struggle with regular classroom materials.

The Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources series makes it easy to include stimulating primary sources in Australian History lessons. The units do not teach every aspect of the topic. Instead, they support the teaching of the topic by providing authentic documents and images of the time that more fully explore significant events, opinions and ideas. Additional background information for each unit can be found in the companion title, Achieve! History – Making a Nation 1750–1918.

This series has been written to match the Australian Curriculum: History and address requirements of the New South Wales and Victorian History curriculums.

Topics include

- Armed conflict
- The Stolen Generation
- Housing and sanitation
- Technology and work
- Experiences of non-Europeans in Australia
- The impact of the gold rush
- Comparing artworks
- Symbols of Federation
- Arguments for and against women's suffrage
- A fair wage

Associated titles in the Achieve! Instant Lessons series

Achieve!* History series

- Making a Nation 1750–1918
- Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources – World War 1
- World War 1 (Books 1, 2)
- Rights and Freedoms
- The Industrial Revolution 1750–1914
- Pop Culture 1945–present

Blake EDUCATION
Better ways to learn

Instant Lessons
An imprint of Blake Education Pty Ltd
ABN 50 074 266 023
108 Main Rd Clayton South VIC 3169
+61 3 9558 4433
www.blake.com.au

Made for the Australian Curriculum

ISBN: 978-0-64811-508-3
9 780648 115083

ACHIEVE!

HISTORY

Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources

Making a nation – Australia

1750–1918

INSTANT LESSONS

Made for the Australian Curriculum

ACHIEVE!

HISTORY

Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources

Making a nation – Australia

1750–1918

This book was commissioned by Jennifer Gough.
Project management, editing, typesetting and cover design by Ruth Schultz Proofreading by Marie Theodore

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

The publisher wishes to thank history teacher Rachel Towns and historian Abigail Belfrage for their contribution to this title.

© Blake Education 2020

Blake Education owns all copyrights in the literary and the artistic works in this book.

Every effort has been made to trace copyright holders and to obtain their permission for the use of copyright material. The publisher apologises for any errors or omissions and would be grateful if notified of any corrections that should be incorporated in future reprints or editions of this book.

All material identified by AC is material subject to copyright under the Copyright Act 1968 (Cth) and is owned by the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority.
For all Australian Curriculum material except elaborations: This is an extract from the Australian Curriculum.
Elaborations: This may be a modified extract from the Australian Curriculum and may include the work of other authors.
Disclaimer: ACARA neither endorses nor verifies the accuracy of the information provided and accepts no responsibility for incomplete or inaccurate information. In particular, ACARA does not endorse or verify that:
• The content descriptions are solely for a particular year and subject;
• All the content descriptions for that year and subject have been used; and
• The author's material aligns with the Australian Curriculum content descriptions for the relevant year and subject.
You can find the unaltered and most up to date version of the material at http://www.australiancurriculum.edu.au This material is reproduced with the permission of ACARA.

Downloadables sold with a licence to print and photocopy

The contents of this book are covered by copyright laws in Australia and in other countries. The purchase price includes the right for you to print and photocopy these pages for your students without further payment to the publisher. For further information about how schools can use this photocopiable resource, please refer to the 'FAQ's on www.blake.com.au.

Otherwise, you may only download, print, copy, store and communicate the contents of this book without permission when that is allowed by the copyright laws applicable to you.

If you work in an Australian school that is covered by the education statutory licence, you may be allowed to copy, download, print, store and communicate parts of this book without permission from copyright owners. Under the education statutory licence, payments are made on behalf of schools to Copyright Agency, which distributes the payments to writers, artists and publishers. See www.copyright.com.au.

Copyright Agency
Level 12, 66 Goulburn Street
Sydney NSW 2000
Telephone: (02) 9394 7600
Facsimile: (02) 9394 7601
E-mail: memberservices@copyright.com.au

Blake EDUCATION
Better ways to learn

Instant Lessons
An imprint of Blake Education Pty Ltd
ABN 50 074 266 023
108 Main Road
Clayton South VIC 3169
Ph: +61 3 9558 4433
info@blake.com.au
www.blake.com.au

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders are advised that this book may contain images of people who have died.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

Contents

Achieve!

Introduction 4

1 The impact of settlement 5
Armed conflict 6
Massacres 7
Sources of conflict 8
Health and lifestyle – Indigenous population 9
Physical and mental impact 10

2 The Stolen Generation 11
Walter's story – the key concepts 12
Walter's story 13
A letter to Dr Roth 14
Perspectives of the past 15
Looking for evidence 16

3 Housing and sanitation 17
Family in a kitchen 18
Kitchen video activity 19
Interior of a Victorian-era house 20
The cities of stinks 21
Living in a stink 22

4 Transport, industry and work 23
Transport is transformed 24
City life 25
Then and now – city life 26
Technology and work 27
Comparing photographs 28

5 Education 29
The school room 30
Children's experience of school 31
A history lesson 32
Changing historical perspectives 33
Re-examining history 34

6 Experiences of non-Europeans in Australia 35
Sugar slaves and Afghans 36
Working conditions 37
'Out west where the stars are brightest' 38
'The Afghan camel invasion' 39
Afghan and Asian workers in Queensland 40

7 The impact of the gold rush 41
S T Gill 42
Comparing artworks 43
The working artist 44
Catalogue pages – S T Gill 45
Murderous Melbourne 46

8 Symbols of Federation 47
Stamps 48
British and Western influences 49
A national flag competition 50
We're all Australians Now 51
Analysing sources 52

9 The Franchise Act 53
The Australian Woman's Sphere journal 54
Journal cover image analysis 55
Vida Goldstein 56
What the politicians said 57
Arguments for and against women's suffrage 58

10 Laws 59
The Harvester Judgement 60
A fair wage 61
The Immigration Restriction Act 62
The Maternity Allowance 63
What the papers said 64

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Introduction

Achieve!

While very suitable for the regular classroom, each of the Achieve! series of History titles has been written at a literacy level that makes the pages appropriate for students who, because of poor reading skills, may struggle to comprehend regular classroom materials. Due to the nature of many of the primary resources, some students will need additional language support to access the content. The Teacher's Notes pages include words in the primary sources that students may need help to define and understand. Some pages include definitions or definition activities.

The Analysing and Interpreting Primary Sources series makes it easy to include stimulating primary sources in Australian History lessonss. The units do not teach every aspect of the topic. Instead, they support the teaching of the topic by providing authentic documents and images of the time that more fully explore significant events, opinions and ideas.

The Teacher's Notes provide valuable guidance about using each unit. They have lesson objectives, suggested prior knowledge, additional questions to ask students about the primary sources and some background information for each topic. Additional background information for each unit can be obtained in the companion title Achieve! History – Making a Nation 1750–1918 (Rachel Towns 2017, ISBN 978-0-99542-751-8).

Source citation abbreviations used throughout this book:

- NLA – National Library of Australia
- SLV –State Library of Victoria.

This series has been written to match the Australian Curriculum: History and address requirements of the New South Wales and Victorian History curriculums.

The Australian Curriculum alignment Year 9	Unit
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary and secondary sources (ACHHS187)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Process and synthesise information from a range of sources for use as evidence in a historical argument (ACHHS188)		✓	✓	✓					✓
Evaluate the reliability and usefulness of primary and secondary sources (ACHHS189)	✓		✓		✓			✓
Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past (ACHHS190)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Identify and analyse different historical interpretations (including their own) (ACHHS191)					✓			✓		✓
The extension of settlement, including the effects of contact (intended and unintended) between European settlers in Australia and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples (ACDSEH020)	✓	✓
Experiences of non-Europeans in Australia prior to the 1900s (such as the Japanese, Chinese, South Sea Islanders, Afghans) (ACDSEH089)						✓	✓
Living and working conditions in Australia around the turn of the twentieth century (that is 1900) (ACDSEH090)			✓	✓	✓		✓			✓
Key people, events and ideas in the development of Australian self-government and democracy, including, the role of founders, key features of constitutional development, the importance of British and Western influences in the formation of Australia's system of government and women's voting rights (ACDSEH091)								✓	✓
Laws made by federal Parliament between 1901-1914 including the Harvester Judgment, pensions, and the Immigration Restriction Act (ACDSEH092)										✓

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

I Teacher's notes – The impact of settlement

Achieve!

Objectives

- Learn about the psychological and physical impact of colonial settlement on Indigenous and white populations
- Evaluate the reliability of primary sources
- Analyse the perspectives of people from the past
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources

Prior knowledge

Students need a good understanding of the European settlement history of Australia. This includes knowledge of the Burke and Wills expeditions, the massacres that took place during white settlement and the impact of introduced diseases, such as smallpox, on Indigenous peoples.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Armed conflict (Activity sheet, p. 6)

This watercolour painting illustrates an armed conflict between expeditioners and Indigenous people from the Bulloo Downs (general current name) area. The expeditioners constructed a rough barricade to defend themselves.

Students should understand the purpose of expeditions such as Burke and Wills's journey in the early 1860s, what they were hoping to achieve and how the expeditioners viewed the Indigenous peoples they met along the way.

Source analysis questions

- What does the source tell you about how people lived at this time?
- How well did the white and Indigenous people cope with the difficult environment?
- Where is Bulla (Bulloo Downs) on the route that Burke and Wills took north?

Massacres (Resource sheet, p. 7)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases as used in the context of the source: wretches, unsparing perseverance, conceive, penalty, familiarised, participated, remedy, aloof.

Source analysis questions

- How did you think Henry Mayrick's mother reacted when she received this letter from her son?
- What the emotions and feelings does Henry Mayrick show in his letter?

Health and lifestyle – Indigenous population (Resource sheet, p. 9)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases as used in the context of the source: Derrimut, lubra, piccaninny, forcibly, New Holland, sealing, resided, scourge.

Source analysis questions

- All three sources are from official government documents. Why was this information reported and documented?
- Think about the word 'native' and how it is used in these sources. What does the use of this word imply about the people it describes in this place and at this time?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

AIATSIS Map of Aboriginal Australia
https://aiatsis.gov.au/explore/articles/aiatsis-map-indigenous-australia

Language map of Victoria
https://www.vaclang.org.au/Resources/maps.html

Massacres
https://www.newcastle.edu.au/newsroom/featured-news/mapping-the-massacres-of-australias-colonial-frontier

Missions
https://aiatsis.gov.au/explore/articles/mission-days

Further reading

Clark, Ian. D. Scars in the Landscape, Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies Report Series, 1995, Canberra, ACT

Presland, G. First People The Eastern Kulin of Melbourne Port Phillip and Central Victoria, Museum Victoria, 2010, Melbourne, Victoria

ED. S. Greer, R. Henry, R. McGregor, M. Wood, Transactions and Transformations: artefacts of the wet tropics, North Queensland, Memoirs of the Queensland Museum, Volume 10, December, 2016
(Provides detail about the life and ethnographic collections of Walter Roth, a Chief Protector of Queensland in the late 1800s to early 1900s. Please review the content before supplying to students as some content is not suitable for a general audience.)

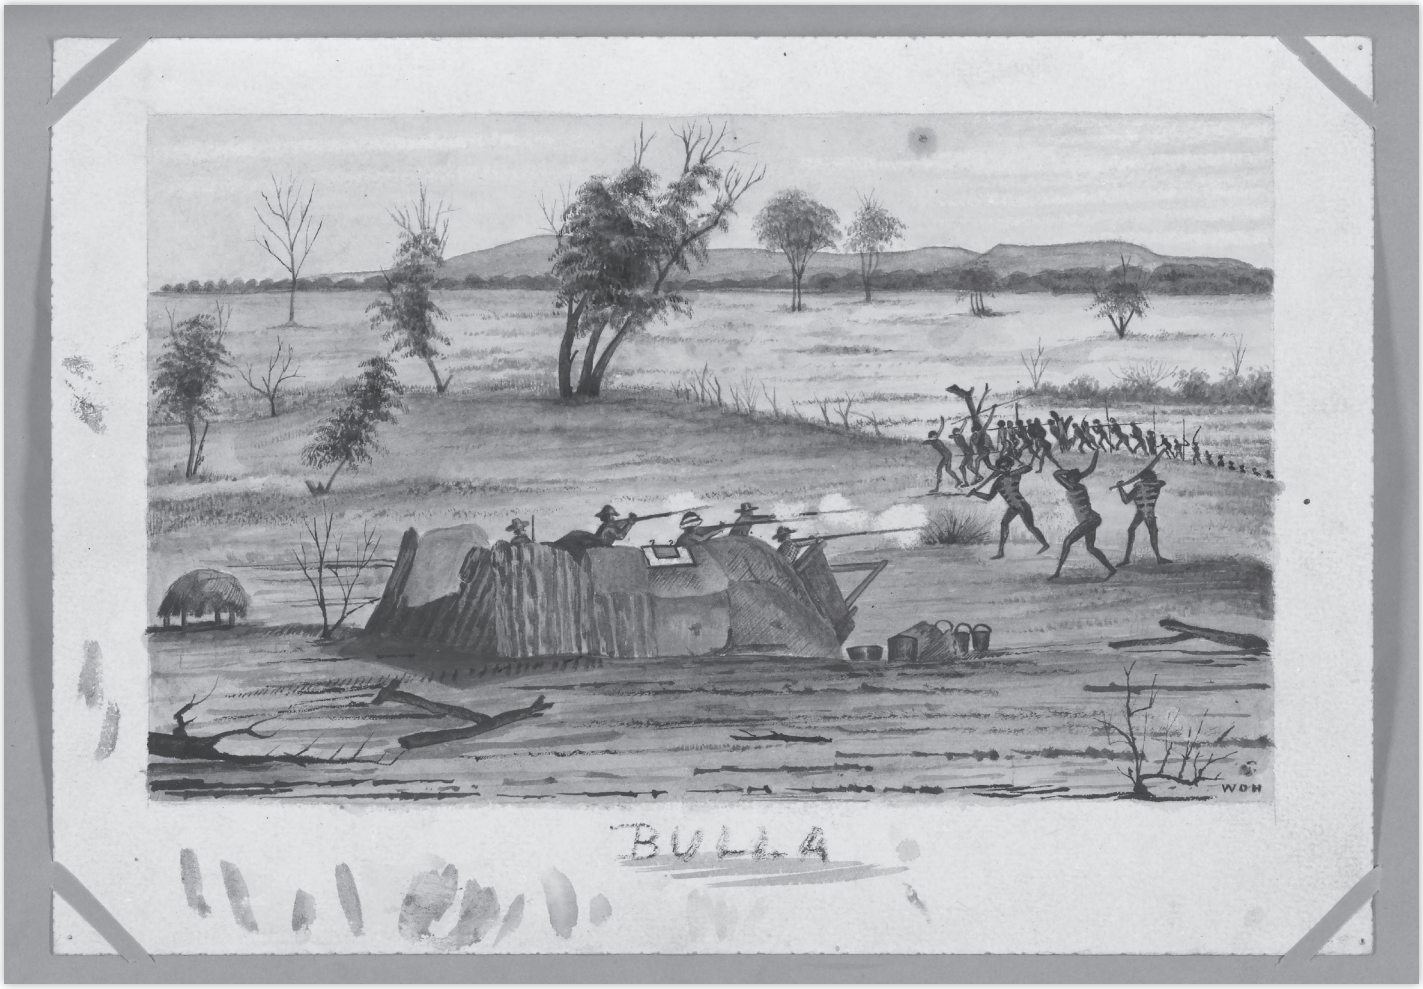
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Armed conflict

☞ 1 Read this paragraph and cross out the incorrect spelling in each set of brackets.

In August 1860, explorers Robert O'Hara Burke and William Wills set (out / owt) from Melbourne on (their / there) journey (to / two) reach the Gulf (of / off) Carpentaria. In September 1861, William Hodgkinson left Melbourne (two / to) join the expedition. His painting 'Bulla' (shows / showz) the expedition (inn / in) conflict with a (group / groop) of Indigenous people in the Bulloo area (of / off) south-west Queensland.



'Bulla' Queensland, 1861 William Oswald Hodgkinson
Watercolour painting 21.8 x 13.4 cm. National Library of Australia

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Massacres

Henry Mayrick and his brothers Alfred and Maurice were early settlers in the Western Port and Gippsland areas of Victoria. This source is part of a letter Henry wrote to his mother in April 1846.

The blacks are very quiet here now, poor wretches, no wild beast of the forest was ever hunted down with such unsparing perseverance as they are; men, women and children are shot where ever they can be met with, some excuses might be found for shooting the men by those who are daily getting their cattle speared, but what they can urge in their excuse who shoot women and children I cannot conceive. I have protested against it at every station I have been in in Gipps [Gippsland] in the strongest language but these things are kept very secret as the penalty would be hanging … I remember the time when my blood would have run cold at the bare mention of these things but now I am become so familiarised with scenes of horror, from having murder made a topic of everyday conversation. I have heard tales told, and some things I have seen that would form as dark a page as ever you could read in the book of history – but I thank God I have never participated in them – If I could remedy these things I would speak loudly though it cost me all I am worth in the world, but as I cannot I will keep aloof and know nothing and say nothing.

Source: H.H Mayrick, letters, 1840-1847, La Trobe Library, SLV H15789 – 15816

Definitions

wretches: victims, sufferers

unsparing perseverance: cruel persistence or determination conceive: understand penalty: price

familiarised: used to participated: involved in remedy: change or fix

aloof: distant, detached

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Sources of conflict

☞ Use the primary sources in the Activity sheet, 'Armed conflict', and the Resource sheet, 'Massacres', to answer these questions.

1 Why do you think the Indigenous people and white colonists came into armed conflict?

'Bulla'	Henry's letter

2 Describe the impact of the conflict on the Indigenous people.

'Bulla'	Henry's letter

3 Based on the source 'Bulla':

- how would the Indigenous people describe the white expeditioners?

- how would the white expeditioners describe the Indigenous people?

5 Based on Henry's letter:

- how would the Indigenous people view the white colonists?

- how do you think the white colonists viewed the Indigenous people?

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Health and lifestyle – Indigenous population

Land

Source 1

You see ... all this mine, all along here Derrimut's once; no matter now; me soon tumble down ... Why me have lubra? Why me have piccaninny? You have all this place, no good have children, no good have lubra, me tumble down and die very soon now.

Source: William Hull, 1858, Report of the Select Committee of the Legislative Council on The Aborigines, p. 12.

Kidnap

Source 2

... some native women, I believe four in number, who have been forcibly taken from their husbands and families, from the southern coast of New Holland, by some men employed in sealing, and who frequent the islands in Bass Strait ...

Source: JH Wedge to VDL Col Sec, 8 October 1836, Historical Records of Victoria, Vol 2A: 52. Public Record Office, Victoria, Melbourne.

Definitions

Derrimut: the clan-head of the Yalukit willam clan who lived in the City of Port Phillip Bay area of Melbourne lubra: a female Indigenous Australian. Possibly a term of Indigenous Australian origin, now considered racially offensive.

piccaninny (of Portugese origin): small child forcibly: taken with force or violence

New Holland: the name Australia was first given in 1644 by Dutch seafarer Abel Tasman sealing: killing seals for meat and oil resided: lived with scourge: a thing that causes great suffering

Smallpox

Source 3

From the native who resided with us we understood that many families had been swept off by this scourge, and that others, to avoid it, had fled into the interior parts of the country.

Source: An Account of the English Colony of NSW Vol 1, David Collins, CHAPTER VII, published 1798

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Physical and mental impact

☞ Use Sources 1, 2 and 3 from the Resource sheet, 'Health and lifestyle – Indigenous population', to answer these questions.

1 Summarise four impacts of colonial settlement on the Australian Indigenous population.

Physical impact	Mental impact

2 Read Source 1. These are the reported words of an Indigenous clan leader named Derrimut. Describe the language he uses.

3 How are the words in Source 1 different from Sources 2 and 3?

4 Do you think Source 1 is a reliable source of information about the general feeling of Indigenous people at this time? Give reasons for your answer.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

2 Teacher's notes – The Stolen Generation

Achieve!

Objectives

- Understand how laws and beliefs about the Indigenous population of Australia led to the Stolen Generation
- Investigate the role and power of Protectors in the middle 1800s through to the early 1900s
- Think about information from a source that could be used as evidence in a historical argument
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past

Prior knowledge

Students should have some understanding of what the term 'Stolen Generation' means.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Walter's story – the key concepts (Activity sheet, p. 12)

Students should understand the meaning of words and phrases such as: legal guardian, reserves, Industrial and Reformatory Schools, neglected, half-caste.

Source analysis questions

- Why did the Indigenous community need to be 'protected'? What image does this word create in your mind?
- How would you define the word 'neglected'? What does it infer when this term is applied to Indigenous children born of an Indigenous or 'half-caste' mother?

Walter's story (Resource sheet, p. 13)

Students should understand the meaning of words and phrases such as: Protector of Aborigines, h-c children, loafing around, trade.

Source analysis questions

- Both sources are from official government documents. Why was this information reported and documented?
- Walter is described as 'loafing around'. What might he have been doing?
- What evidence suggests that Walter was not physically or emotionally neglected?

A letter to Dr Roth (Resource sheet, p. 14)

Students should understand the meaning of words and phrases such as: Protector of Aborigines, coaxed, disgracefully, decoyed away, favourable.

Source analysis questions

- What sort of person do you think M Matthews is?
- What is M Matthews mostly unhappy about?
- What do you think Dr Roth thought when he received the letter from M Matthews?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.commonground.org.au/learn/the-stolen-generations

https://www.sbs.com.au/nitv/explainer/explainer-stolen-generations

https://aiatsis.gov.au/gallery/video/national-apology-stolen-generations

Further reading

ED. S. Greer, R. Henry, R. McGregor, M. Wood, Transactions and Transformations: artefacts of the wet tropics, North Queensland, Memoirs of the Queensland Museum, Volume 10, December, 2016

(Provides detail about the life and ethnographic collections of Walter Roth, a Chief Protector of Queensland in the late 1800s to early 1900s. Please review the content before supplying to students as some content is not suitable for a general audience.)

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Walter's story – the key concepts

☞ 1 Write the missing vowels (a, e, i, o, u) to complete the key words.

2 Read the completed information to find out how the lives of Indigenous peoples were controlled by laws.

The role of a Protector

The role of a 'Pr__t__ct__r of Aborigines' was held by men in most states of A__str__l___ from the middle 1800s through to the early 1900s. The Protector was the legal guardian of Indigenous children to the age of 16 years. The Protector had the power to remove Ind__g__n___s children from their family and place them in homes or in work. They also had control over who Indigenous adults could marry, where they could l__ve, their h___lth and their money.

Dr Walter E Roth

Dr Roth was the 'Northern Pr__t__ct__r of Aborigines' in Queensland. His job was to enforce the laws of the 'Aboriginals Protection and R__str__ct___n of the Sale of Op___m Act of 1897'. Roth was well known for strongly applying the laws of the Act.

Aboriginals Protection and Restriction of the Sale of Opium Act 1897

This Act was created to pr__t__ct Indigenous people from disease and m__str___tm__nt by the white community. But in practice, it meant that Indigenous people could be removed from their homes and placed in reserves.

The Industrial and Reformatory Schools Act 1865 (1865–1911) Queensland

This set of laws helped to set up special schools to educate children under the age of 15 who had broken the law or who were described as 'neglected'.

One way the Act defined a n__gl__ct__d child was: "Any child born of an aboriginal or half-caste mother." (7.)

Source: The acts of the Parliament of Queensland, Industrial and Reformatory Schools Act – 1865

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Walter's story

February 1903

Dr Walter E Roth was the Northern Protector of Aborigines, based in Cardwell, north Queensland. He wrote to D Graham, a Protector in Townsville:

Source 1

Sir, I have the honour to inform you that my attention has been drawn to the following h-c children roaming about the blacks' camps in the neighbourhood of Cardwell ... it seems to me a great pity to see the lad "Walter Peter" loafing around the camp instead of learning a trade at the Industrial School.

Source: Queensland State Archives Item ID336387, (A/58751) Correspondence, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander

June 8, 1903

Dr Roth writes to the Under Secretary, Department of Public Lands:

Source 2

I would accordingly suggest that (1) "Walter" be brought up under the Industrial Schools Act of 1865 ... being a "child born of an aboriginal or half-caste mother.

Source: Queensland State Archives Item ID336387, (A/58751) Correspondence, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander

August 1903

Fourteen-year-old Walter was charged with the offence of being neglected because he was a "child born of an aboriginal or half-caste mother".

While locked up and waiting to be sent to an industrial school for two years, Walter became very ill from distress. His mother Nellie Bliss came to the lock-up. She howled and screamed in grief because her child was being taken away.

Walter was released, but later tricked by Dr Roth into boarding a boat that took him away to Cairns.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

A letter to Dr Roth

Source 3

November 27, 1903

In November a (iv) M. Matthews, Cardwell to Dr. Roth, Northern Protector of Aborigines, November 27, 1903.

Sir,

I would like to draw your attention to the way which "Walter" was kidnapped from here last Monday night – and sent away to Cairns to the Missionary Station. I presume the parents were informed by the police that he was to be let go on Tuesday morning but by that time he was well on his way to Cairns. He was coaxed to the steamer by telling him that the Inspector was on board and wanted to see him and he could go to his parents again on Tuesday morning. As I have known him since he was born, I know he had never been neglected in any way, was always well clothed and always had plenty to eat and now that he is over fifteen years of age and can earn "his own living" he is disgracefully taken away from his parents by the police.

His mother is crying after him and partly blames me for taking him to the boat.

If other police left the blacks alone and looked after some of the neglected "whites" it would be much more to their credit as you know yourself the "blacks" here are not neglected and I consider it is about time it was put a stop to; even if Walter is a halfcaste why should he be kidnapped away from his parents.

I would kindly ask you to give me a reply to this so as to know if there is any chance of his coming back to his parents.

I think it is one of the most disgraceful things that I have ever seen that the boy should be decoyed away from his parents in such a manner.

Trusting for a favourable reply,

I remain, Yours faithfully

M Matthews

Source: Queensland State Archives Item ID336387, (A/58751) Correspondence, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Perspectives of the past

☞ Use the Activity sheet, 'Walter's story – the key concepts', and the Resource sheets, 'Walter's story' and 'A letter to Dr Roth', to complete the activity.

1 Describe how these people thought and felt about the forced removal of Walter from his family.

Walter

Dr Walter E Roth

Nellie Bliss

M Matthews

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Looking for evidence

☞ Use the Activity sheet, 'Walter's story – the key concepts', and the Resource sheets, 'Walter's story' and 'A letter to Dr Roth', to complete the activity.

1 Read this essay topic. Highlight the keywords.

Essay topic: Describe how Australian laws contributed to the creation of the Stolen Generation in Australia.

2 Summarise ideas and evidence from the Activity sheet and the Resource sheets under the following headings to help you plan paragraphs for this essay.

- The role of the Protector and the impact he had on how Indigenous people lived.

- The laws

- The ways Indigenous people were affected by the laws

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

3 Teacher's notes – Housing and sanitation

Achieve!

Objectives

- Understand the living conditions in early Australian cities
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past
- Think about information from a source that could be used as evidence in a historical argument
- Evaluate the usefulness or reliability of primary sources

Prior knowledge

None required.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Family in a kitchen (Resource sheet, p. 18)
Source analysis questions

- What kind of family is shown in this photograph? What are the relationships between the people, where do they live, and what 'class' of people are they?
- If you were standing in this kitchen, what would you smell and hear?
- How difficult or time-consuming would it be to make dinner in this kitchen? Where are the appliances, oven and fridge?
- Look closely at how the people are dressed. Can you date the picture from these details?

Interior of a Victorian-era house (Activity sheet, p. 20)
Source analysis questions

- What is important to the people who live in this house? What do they love and value?
- Look at how the furniture and decorations are organised in this room. How is the room used? How many people could fit in this space?

The cities of stinks (Resource sheet, p. 21)

Students should understand the meaning of words and phrases such as: drained, imperfect, sewers, corporation, discharging, street-channels, water-closets, cesspits, subsoil, deep drainage, discharged, water supply, board of inquiry, intercept, prevailing, disperses, shallow, estuary.

Source analysis questions

- Sources 1 and 2 come from official government records. Why was this kind of report written and recorded at this time?
- What type of workers would be needed to complete the sewerage work described? What kinds of tools would they use? How long would the work take to complete?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.news.com.au/national/nsw-act/working-class-kids-the-tough-life-colonial-children-faced/news-story/e6a9890564940d12b20b36be09bd54d3

https://www.mja.com.au/journal/2014/201/1/medicine-colonial-australia-1788-1900

https://www.mja.com.au/journal/2014/201/1/rise-and-fall-infectious-diseases-australian-perspectives-1914-2014

https://www.abs.gov.au/Ausstats/ABS@.nsf/94713ad445ff1425ca25682000192af2/3ce0381f7cbab608ca2569de0024ed6d%21OpenDocument https://watersensitivecities.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2016/12/A2.1_2_2016_R5-19-12-2016-V2.pdf

https://maas.museum/inside-the-collection/2018/07/18/present-and-past-family-life-toilets/

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Family in a kitchen

Interior view of family in a kitchen Michael J Drew 1873-1943. SLV H2012.171/80

© Blake Education 2020
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

Kitchen video activity

Many history documentaries show pictures. The historian narrating the documentary tells the audience important information about what they see.

☞ Pretend that you are a historian who is narrating a 1–2 minute documentary segment about the photograph from the Resource sheet, 'Family in a kitchen'.

- Use the questions below to help you plan what you will say.
- Then rehearse your narration by speaking it aloud or to a classmate.
- Record your 1–2 minute narration on a phone or tablet.

Look

- What is the setting?
- What people and objects are shown?
- What interesting details do you notice?

Think about

- When do you think this photograph was taken?
- Who might have taken this photograph, and why?
- If someone took this photograph today, what would be the same? What would be different?

Question

- What does this image tell you about home life at this time?

Dig deeper

- What else do you want to know about this image? How could you find out?

Production tips!

✔ Focus your camera on details in the photograph to highlight them during your narration.

✔ Your narration does not have to be perfect. The quality of what you say is the most important part of this assignment.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Interior of a Victorian-era house

☞ Use this primary source to answer the questions.

Interior view of a Victorian-era house c. 1890-1910 SLV H85.70/77

1 What does the source tell you about heating and lighting in some houses at this time?

2 What type of person do you think lives in this house? Are they rich or poor? Include examples from the source to support your answer.

3 Is this source useful for showing how people lived? Explain your answer.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

The cities of stinks

Source 1

Page xii
SANITARY CONDITION OF ADELAIDE.

Prior to the introduction of a system of deep drainage, Adelaide was drained partly by an imperfect system of sewers laid down by the corporation, and discharging in the park lands, and partly by open street-channels, by which the drainage ultimately found its way to the River Torrens. A few water-closets were in use connected with the corporation sewers, but cesspits were chiefly used, and their contents buried in the park lands. With this condition of things, Adelaide has been described by one witness as having been a "city of stinks", with its subsoil surcharged with sewage. In 1885 a system of deep drainage was completed. The city is now free from offensive odours, the subsoil is recovering, the street channels are used only for surface water, and the Torrens has been changed from a filthy sewer to a beautiful hike.

Source 2

Page xiii
CONDITION OF SYDNEY.

As early as 1854, underground sewers were laid down in the city of Sydney. These discharged directly into the harbour. Owing to complaints about the drainage and water supply and the pollution of the harbour, a board of inquiry was appointed in 1875. As a result of their investigations, a complete system of deep drainage was commenced in 1880, and is now in course of construction. Main sewers have been laid down to intercept the drainage to the harbour, and to convey the sewage from the northern portion of the city by a large main sewer to the ocean at Bondi, where a strong current there prevailing carries away and disperses the discharged matters.

... The southern portion of the city drains into a shallow estuary, and the sewage has been conducted by a main sewer to a sewage farm at Botany ...

Source: Sanitary condition, of Melbourne: Progress report of Royal Commission to inquire into and report upon the sanitary condition of Melbourne, presented to both Houses of Parliament by His Excellency's command, 1889 https://www.parliament.vic.gov.au/papers/govpub/VPARL1889No27Pi-xliv.pdf

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

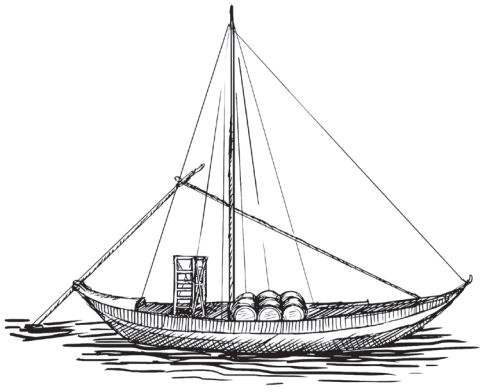
Achieve!

Living in a stink

☞ Use the two primary sources about sewerage and sanitation on the Resource sheet, 'The cities of stinks', to complete the activities.

1 Use Source 1 to write a personal diary entry about the streets and parks of Adelaide from the point of view of a well-dressed woman.

2 Use Source 2 to write a personal diary entry about sewerage and sanitation in Sydney from the point of view of a sailor.



ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

4 Teacher's notes –Transport, industry and work

Achieve!

Objectives

- Understand how advances in technology impacted on work and transport
- Learn about how cities developed as the Australian economy grew
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Think about information from a source that could be used as evidence in a historical argument

Prior knowledge

Some knowledge of how Australia's economy grew through agricultural exports, technological progress and increased large-scale foreign investment.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Transport is transformed (Activity sheet, p. 24)

Students should understand the meaning of words and phrases such as: Chassis, motor buggy, application, requisites, futchel pole, braces.

The Cobb and Co. museum in Charleville, Queensland dates this image as circa 1913. Students should note that while cars were available from the mid 1800s, it was not until the 1950s that most Australian families had a car. Horse-driven vehicles were very common well into the 1940s, especially in country towns.

Source analysis questions

- What would it have been like travelling on unsealed roads in these two types of vehicles?
- Where in Australia were passenger coaches most used?
- Why was the motor buggy made to seat up to nine people?
- How many coaches do you think were built at this time, compared to motor buggies?
- What types of people could afford a motor buggy?
- When were coaches replaced by other forms of public transport, like trains?

City life (Resource sheet, p. 25)

For comparison purposes, note that the two images of Bourke Street are not shot from the same location. The 1900 image was probably taken near the intersection of Bourke Street and Russell Street, and the modern image was taken from the steps of Parliament House.

Source analysis questions

- How did cable trams operate? What is the mechanism?
- What would it have been like to travel on roads that had horse-drawn vehicles, trams and cars?
- Why was the 1900 image taken?
- Examine views of Bourke Street in other paintings and photographs to find out how this area of the city has changed over time; e.g. Tom Robert's Allegro con brio, Bourke Street west c.1885–86, and reworked 1890. https://artsearch.nga.gov.au/detail.cfm?irn=62278

Technology and work (Resource sheet, p. 27)
Source analysis questions

- What types of people are working in each photograph? Consider age, gender, background and where they live.
- What health and safety issues can you see in each photograph? How dangerous were these types of work?
- What are the differences and similarities in work between the city and the country?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://cobbandco.qm.qld.gov.au

https://www.aihw.gov.au/news-media/media-releases/2006/apr/a-100-year-review-of-health-in-australia

https://fuse.education.vic.gov.au/Resource/LandingPage?ObjectId=26bde6b2-a551-4e8d-9a5c-aa61d75e4f10&SearchScope=Teacher

http://archives.anu.edu.au/exhibitions/hard-labour

http://www.hawthorntramdepot.org.au/papers/cabletrams.htm

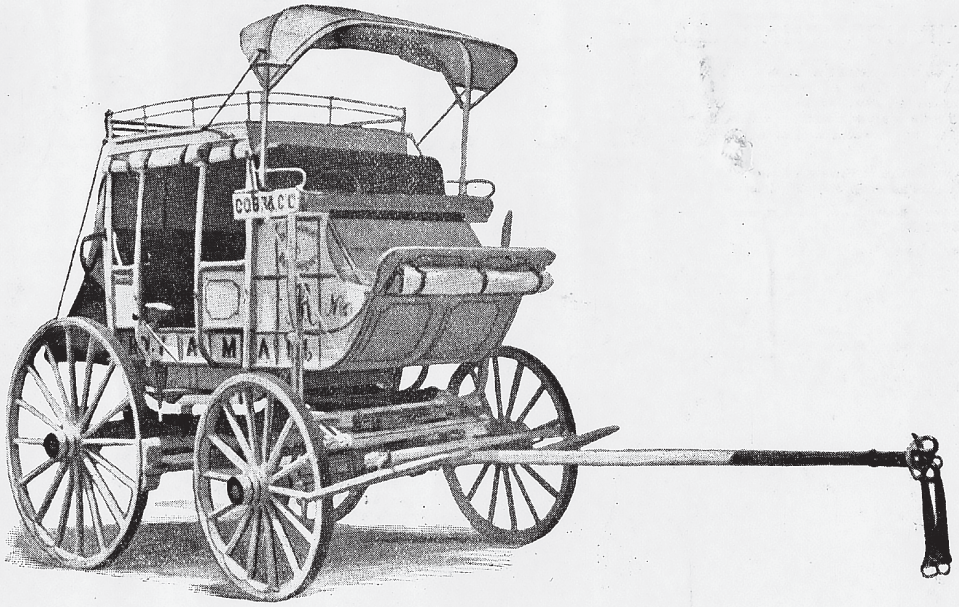
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Transport is transformed

☞ This primary source is a page from an early catalogue (circa 1913) of vehicles made by a Brisbane company called Cobb and Co. Use this source to complete the activities.

No. 35.—8-PASSENGER COACH

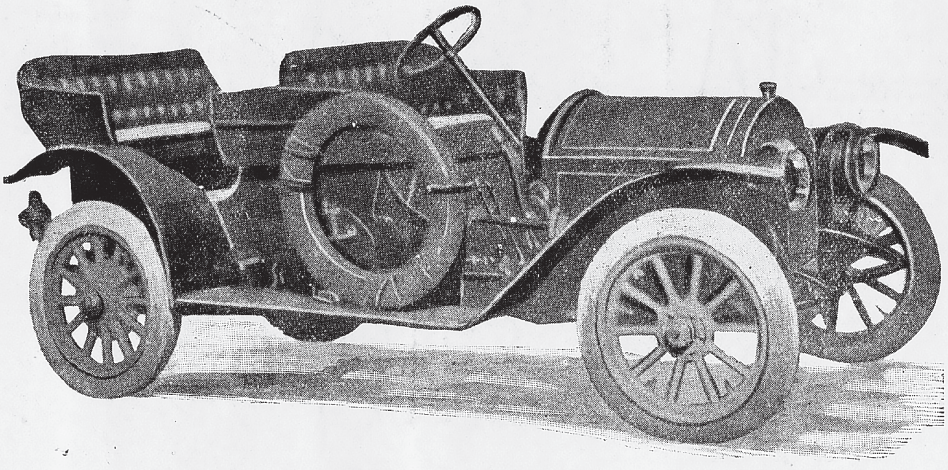


With Hood over Front Seat.
On Leather Thorough Braces.
Top Cover.
Rack Cover.
Apron and Curtains around sides.
Futchel Pole.

PRICE
Nett Charleville
£175

We use this style for our own Mail Services.

No. 36.—MOTOR BUGGY To seat 8 people and Driver



Bodies built on to Chassis to any design.

Original Bodies altered as desired.

Motors thoroughly overhauled, renovated and painted.

Estimates for all descriptions of Motor repair work given on application.

All Motor Requisites stocked and sold at Lowest Prices.

Cobb & Co's catalogue of high class vehicles. 1897-1920, Book, Illustrated edition. Cobb & Co. Brisbane, page 18

1 Write six questions about this image in your workbook.
Your questions should start with: Who, What, When, Where, Why and How.

2 Compare your questions with a classmate. Together, choose the most interesting six questions.

3 Write the answers to these questions in your workbook. You may need to do some research.

© Blake Education 2020
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

City life

☞ These images show views looking west down Bourke Street, towards Swanston Street.

Rose Stereograph Co., photographer. (1900). Bourke Street, Melbourne [picture]. SLV H93.492/1

Yang.square. https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:View_of_Bourke_Street_from_Parliament_House_in_Melbourne.jpg
https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/deed.en

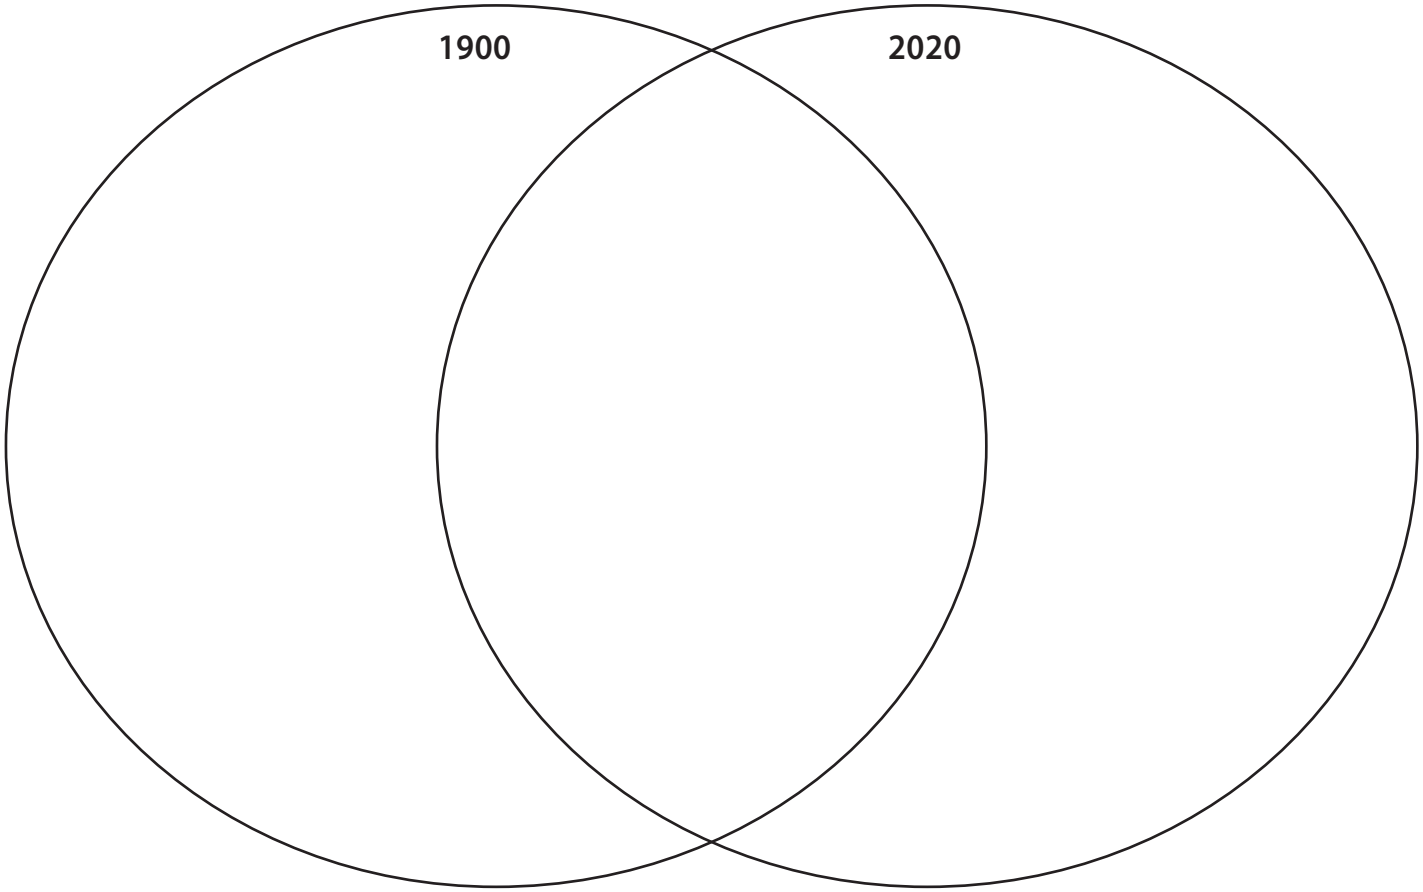
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Then and now – city life

☞ Use the two images of Bourke Street in Melbourne in 1900 and 2020 on the Resource sheet, 'City life', to complete the activities.

2 What do the images have in common? Write these things (similarities) in the space where the circles overlap. Write the differences in the separate parts of the circle.



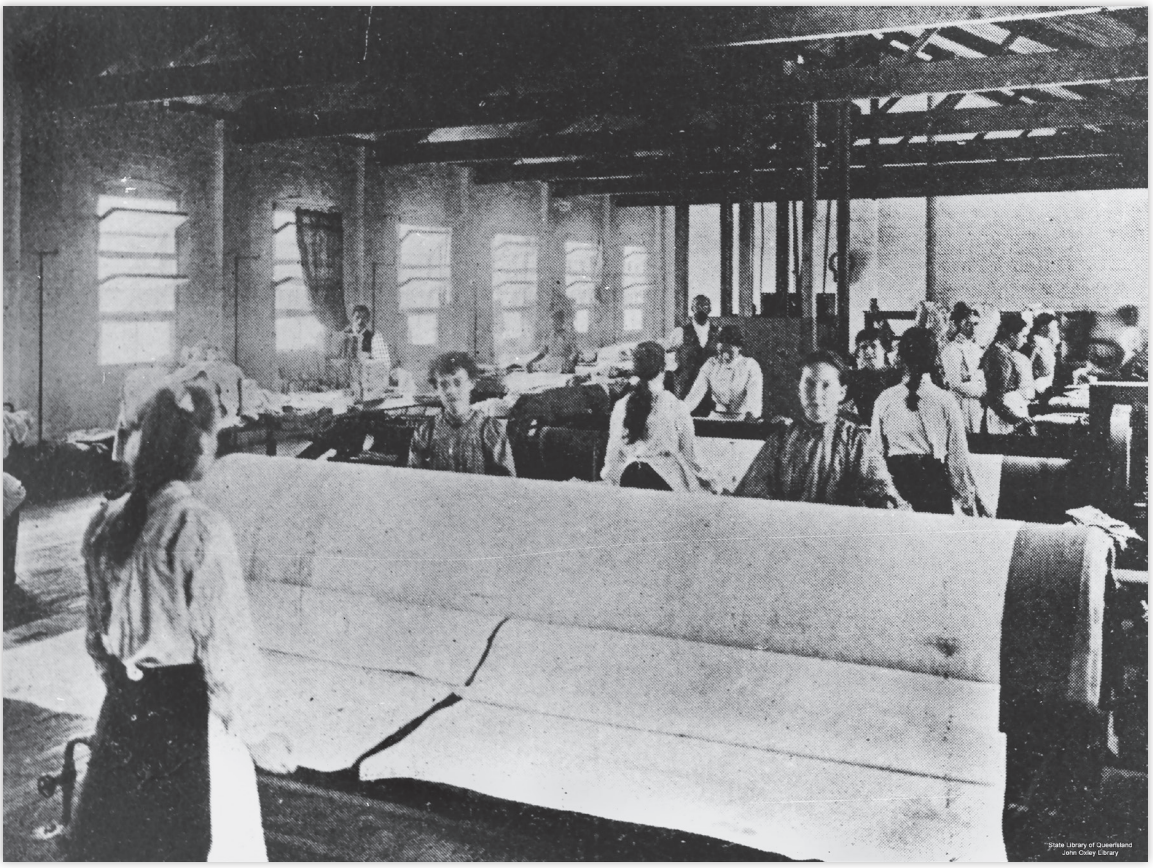
3 Summarise what you think it is like to live in the city of Melbourne.

In 1900	In 2020

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Technology and work



Female employees working with large rollers in the ironing department of the Fish Steam Laundry in Brisbane in 1902. John Oxley Library, State Library of Queensland

Hodgkinson, W. (1880). [Traction Engine at Work, Men Stacking Hay in Background] [picture]. SLV H42506/260

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Comparing photographs

☞ Compare and analyse the photos on the Resource sheet, 'Technology and work'.

	Female employees working with large rollers in the ironing department of the Fish Steam Laundry in Brisbane in 1902.	Traction Engine at Work, Men Stacking Hay in Background, 1880
What can you see in this image?
What parts of the image stand out the most to you?
Describe the examples of technology you can see.
What does the image suggest about being a worker at this time?
How is this type of work done today? Think about the technology that is probably used.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

5 Teacher's notes – Education

Objectives

- Learn about how children were formally educated
- Consider what students were taught and how this impacted on their understanding of the history of the white settlement of Australia and the treatment of the Indigenous inhabitants
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past
- Evaluate the usefulness and reliability of primary sources

Prior knowledge

Students need some knowledge of the impact of colonial settlement on Indigenous Australians, specifically in Tasmania.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

The school room (Resource sheet, p. 30)

Source 1: Source analysis questions

- Why was this photograph taken? Who was the intended audience?
- How was this classroom heated, cooled and lit? How would this impact on the students?
- What are the ages of the students in the class? Is this a mixed-age class?
- Why are the boys at the front and the girls at the back?

Source 2: Key words and ideas

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases as used in the context of the source: instil, necessity, habits, orderly, modest, obedience, trained to exhibit, diligent, conscientious, discharge of every duty.

A history lesson (Resource sheet, p. 32)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases as used in the context of the source: frizzly hair, riflemen, settler.

Students might enjoy using a magnifying glass to examine the fine details in this image. In particular, the posters, flags and maps on the back wall will help with answering the question about what is taught in this classroom.

South Bruni Island is now known as Bruney island. It is a small island off the south-eastern coast of Tasmania, named after the French explorer Bruni d'Entrecasteaux who visited the area in the late 1790s. The Indigenous name for the two small land masses that make up the island is lunawanna-allonah.

Governor Davey is mentioned in the source. Further information about him and the picture he had drawn is here:

https://www.sl.nsw.gov.au/stories/governor-arthurs-proclamation-aborigines

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://education.nsw.gov.au/about-us/our-people-and-structure/history-of-government-schools/government-schools/public-instruction-act-1880

https://www.nma.gov.au/defining-moments/resources/free-education-introduced https://www.parliament.vic.gov.au/papers/govpub/VPARL1877-78No105.pdf

http://fusion.deakin.edu.au/items/show/224

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

The school room

Source 1

Drew, M. (1890). Teacher and Children in a Classroom SLV H2012.171/456

Source 2

Teachers are to instil into the minds of their pupils the necessity for habits of orderly and modest behaviour, as well as obedience to teachers, and to the rules of the School. Pupils should also be trained to exhibit respect for the property of others, whether public or private; to regard the feelings of their fellows; to be honest and truthful, diligent under instruction, and conscientious in the discharge of every duty.

Source: Regulations for carrying out the provisions of the Public Instruction Act of 1880, New South Wales Government Gazette, 1880, Vol.2, p.2248.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Children's experience of school

☞ Use the Resource sheet, 'The school room', to complete the activities.

1 In the table below, describe what Source 1 and Source 2 tell you about some Australian childrens' experiences of school in the 1880s.

2 Then write two more questions and answers of your own.

What do you think was taught in this classroom? (Look at the walls.)	What does the room and furniture look like?
What were the students like?	What was the teacher like?
Q: A:	Q: A:

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

A history lesson

Lesson V.

THE TASMANIAN BLACKS.

The Tasmanian blacks were not nearly so tall as the sailors of Tasman thought them to be. Indeed, they were shorter than the Australian blacks, and belonged to a different race, not unlike the negroes, having curly or frizzly hair, and a shiny, black skin.

Black people of the same kind are still to be found on islands of the Indian and Pacific Oceans, mostly hiding away in dark parts of the forests. The Tasmanian blacks were also very shy, and would not make friends with the whites.

After the white people went to settle in Tasmania they often tried to be friendly with the blacks. Governor Davey got a friend to draw a picture showing that the whites ought to be kind to the blacks, and the blacks ought not to kill the whites. This was printed, and copies of it were stuck on the trees for the blacks to see.

Yet still the fighting went on. Tribes of blacks hiding in the bush would come out now and then, and kill some lonely settler; and then the whites would take their guns, and kill as many blacks as they could find. A long line of riflemen tried to drive all the blacks into a corner of the island, but only one was caught.

At last a settler named Robinson began to search for the blacks in a friendly way, and, after five years of very dangerous work in tracking them through the bush, he collected them together. Houses were built for them on South Bruni Island, and in other places, where they were kindly treated. Yet they all died off. The last black woman lived till 1876.

Source: Easy stories for Australian children: a junior reader of Australian history correlated with geography, George Sutherland, 1900, pp. 14-16.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Changing historical perspectives

☞ Use the Resource sheet, 'A history lesson', to complete the activities.

Audience

1 Who would read this text and use the book it was written in?

Points of view

2 From whose point of view was this recount of Tasmanian history written?

3 Whose point of view is missing? Why is it missing?

The main ideas of the writer

Note: These answers are not written on the page. Think about words such as frizzly, shiny, shy, friendly, dangerous, lonely, kindly.)

5 Main ideas about the Indigenous community

6 Main ideas about white colonists

Evaluating the text

7 Describe how useful this source is for understanding how white Australians thought about their life in Australia and the Indigenous people in the 1800s.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Re-examining history

☞ 1 Re-read this last paragraph of The Tasmanian Blacks from Easy stories for Australian children: a junior reader of Australian history correlated with geography.

> At last a settler named Robinson began to search for the blacks in a friendly way, and, after five years of very dangerous work in tracking them through the bush, he collected them together. Houses were built for them on South Bruni Island, and in other places, where they were kindly treated. Yet they all died off. The last black woman lived till 1876.

2 Research the treatment of Tasmanian Indigenous people during colonial times (1800s).

3 Rewrite the paragraph from the point of view of an Indigenous Tasmanian in the 1800s. You could choose the point of view of a young man, the last woman, or a child.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

6 Teacher's notes – Experiences of non-Europeans in Australia

Achieve!

Objectives

- Know some of the ethnic groups that came to Australia, why they came and the white communities' attitudes towards them
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past

Prior knowledge

Students should be familiar with the various groups of people who came to Australia at this time: the Japanese, Chinese, South Sea Islanders and Afghans. They should understand each group's motivation for moving to Australia, and their contribution to the Australian economy and way of life.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Sugar slaves and Afghans (Resource sheet, p. 36)

Kanaka was a term used to describe workers from various Pacific Islands, including Vanuatu and the Solomon Islands. This term is considered derogatory by Islander communities in the Pacific and Australia.

These groups of people worked in British colonies like Queensland from the mid-1800s through to 1901. Many were deported due to the Pacific Island Labourers Act of 1901.

Source analysis questions

- What working conditions did these people experience?
- What might the Afghan men be transporting?
- What would life be like for children on the cane fields? What would be some of the dangers? Do you think the children attended school?

'Out west where the stars are brightest' (Resource sheet, p. 38)

Source analysis questions

- Who is the audience of this page in a newspaper?
- What does the title 'Out west where the stars are brightest' suggest about the tone of this article?
- What would it be like to live 'Out west'?

'The Afghan camel invasion' (Resource sheet, p. 39)

Please note that Extract 1 contains language that is racist and demeaning of the groups of people described. Please use this content with care with students, and be sure to place it in a historical context.

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source:

Extract 1: ubiquitous Chinaman, John, toothsome and necessary vegetables, unpromising spots, Mongol, industrial white man, no redeeming feature, boss countryman, grog, opens his own store and butcher's shop, ungainly, white teamster, infallibly supplant.

Extract 2: thrifty feeder, indefatigable worker.

Source analysis questions

- What feelings or emotions does the writer express in the extracts?
- What else is happening at this time? Think about the laws that would soon restrict foreign workers entering Australia, and the Pacific Island Labourers Act of 1901.

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.greenleft.org.au/content/justice-kanakas-australia%E2%80%99s-%E2%80%98invisible%E2%80%99-melanesians

https://www.australiangeographic.com.au/topics/history-culture/2011/07/australias-afghan-cameleers

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

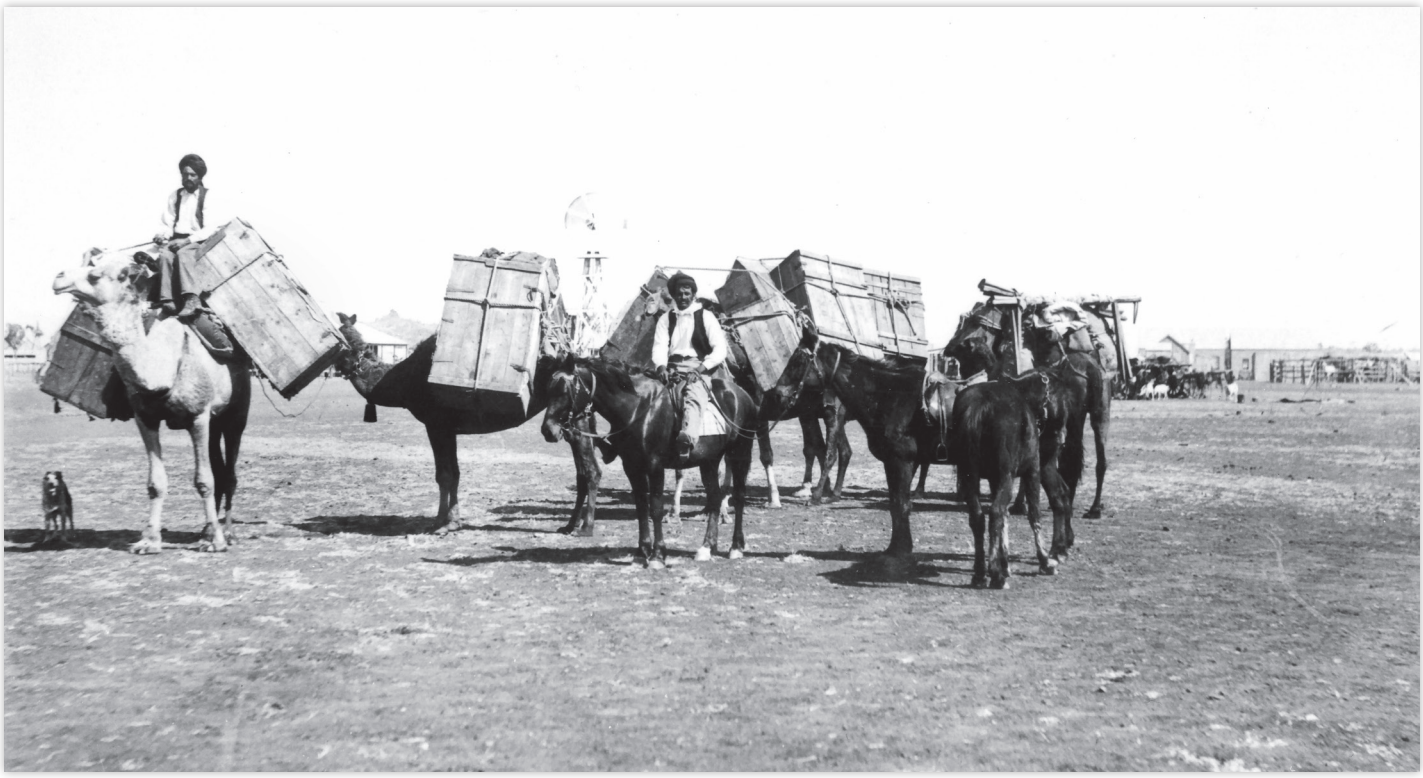
© Blake Education 2020

Sugar slaves and Afghans

Source 1

Kanaka women working in sugar cane, Queensland State Archives Item ID1671497, Photographic material

Source 2



Horse and camel team, Cloncurry ca. 1904, John Oxley Library, State Library of Queensland D19-4-94

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Working conditions

☞ Compare Source 1 and Source 2 from the Resource sheet, 'Sugar slaves and Afghans'.

Source 1 Kanaka women working in sugar cane	Source 2 Horse and camel team, Cloncurry ca. 1904
1 Describe two details in this image. What do they tell you about the experiences of non-European workers in Australia at this time?
• Detail: What this tells you: • Detail: What this tells you:	• Detail: What this tells you: • Detail: What this tells you:
2 What do you wonder about this image? Complete these questions.
Where … Why … How …	Who … What … When …

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

'Out west where the stars are brightest'

THE QUEENSLANDER FOR NOVEMBER 9, 1918.—(PAGE 23.)

Source: The Queenslander, page 23, November 9 1918

© Blake Education 2020
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

'The Afghan camel invasion'

Source: The Brisbane Courier, Tuesday 5 December 1893, page 4

Extract 1

THE AFGHAN CAMEL INVASION

The sudden appearance of a drove of camels at a camp about six miles from Charleville lately gave the storekeepers, forwarding agents, and carriers of the Warrego an unpleasant shock.

The Afghan as the pilot of the "ship of the desert" is even more dreaded and detested than the ubiquitous Chinaman. For John, with all his faults, has practically demonstrated that toothsome and necessary vegetables may be grown and sold at a profit in the most unpromising spots. No climate is too hot, no land too arid for the Mongol vegetable grower ...

But in the eye of the industrial white man there is no redeeming feature about the Afghan. He works for a boss countryman of his own, earns little money and spends less. He drinks no grog, consumes no luxuries, and, it is alleged, refuses to deal with Europeans, and opens his own store and butcher's shop in every small centre of population to which camels have access.

He not only holds his own in the waterless desert, but appreciates the advantage of driving his ungainly weight-carriers along well-grassed roads, and is ready to compete with the white teamster along his most favourite tracks. The camel, it is declared, will infallibly supplant the bullock team in the far West, and, unless relief be granted by legislation there will be nothing for it but for our white carriers to abandon bullocks and take refuge in camels, or leave the country.

Extract 2

The biggest camel-owner in Australia is one Abdul Wadi, who owns 400 of these useful weight carriers, and is of course the chief employer of Afghan labour. Other owners possess from 8 to 16, and usually accompany their camels. The Afghan driver is content with wages to the amount of five or six shillings a week, and he is a "thrifty feeder" as well as an indefatigable worker.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Afghan and Asian workers in Queensland

☞ Read the Resource sheets, 'Out west where the stars are brightest' and 'The Afghan camel invasion'. Then complete these activities and questions in your workbook.

1 Find the location of each place named in the two sources.
Then sketch a map of Queensland that includes these locations.

2 Create a glossary of words from these two sources. Include words that you do not know the meaning of, and words that have changed their meaning over time.

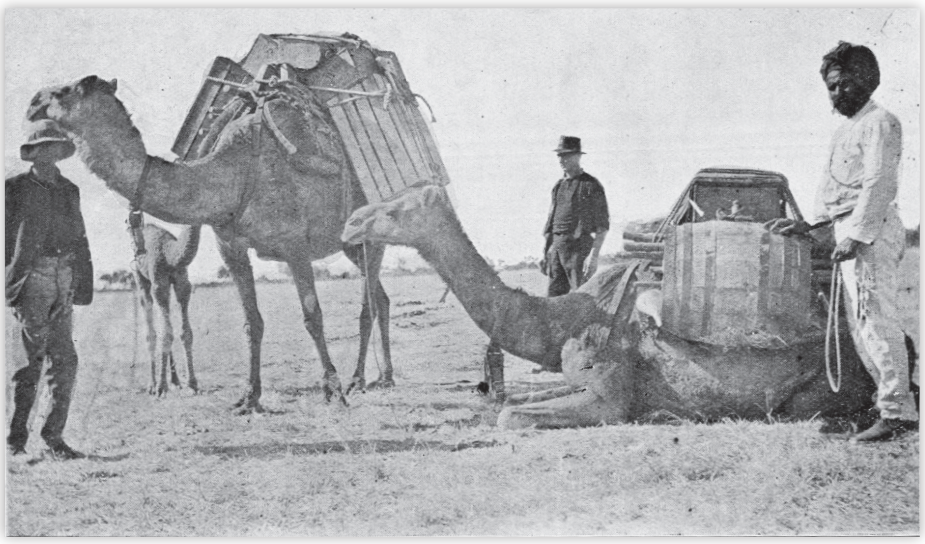
3 What can you tell from these sources about work in remote Queensland at this time?
Use examples from the sources to support your answer.

4 What can you tell from these sources about the lives of Afghan and Asian workers in remote Queensland at this time? Use examples from the sources and your research to support your answer.

5 Summarise the main ideas or messages in each source. Include examples (images and words) from the sources.

6 Think about what you already know about the experiences of non-Europeans in Australia in the late 1800s and early 1900s.

- Explain how these sources add to or change your understanding of the experiences of Afghan and Asian people in colonial Australia.
- Describe something in the sources that surprised you, or you found very interesting.



Camels loaded with water for Dry Stage, en route for the Wolfram Fields in Northern Territory.
Source: The Queenslander, page 23, November 9 1918

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

7 Teacher's notes – The impact of the gold rush

Achieve!

Objectives

- Explore the experiences and lifestyles of the different groups of people who joined the gold rush
- Examine the impact of the gold rush on local economies
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources

Prior knowledge

Students should have a basic understanding of when and where the gold rush occurred in Australia.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

S T Gill (Resource sheet, p. 42)

Englishman Samuel Thomas Gill (1818–80) migrated to Australia in 1839. His artworks are known for clearly and carefully depicting how and where people lived in the 1800s. He travelled between the goldfields of Victoria and New South Wales, painting and drawing what he saw. His subjects included racism against Asian miners and the excesses of people who found new wealth. He had a successful career as an artist, but at the age of 62 he collapsed on the steps of the Melbourne Post Office and died soon after, almost penniless.

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source: coach parties, Digger, watercolour.

Source analysis questions

Source 1

- Imagine you are one of the people in the bottom-right corner. What are you thinking and feeling?
- Look carefully at the way the horses and carriages are depicted. What ideas or feelings does it suggest about the people in the carriages?
- Examine the buildings in the background. Describe them. What does the style and quality of building tell you about Melbourne at this time?

Source 2

- Look at the body language and clothing of the digger smoking the pipe. What do they tell you about what he is thinking and feeling?
- What do you think Melbourne's religious leaders would say about these fake weddings? What parts of the newly rich digger's lifestyle might they disapprove of?

The working artist (Resource sheet, p. 44)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source: stationery, lithographic, comprising, tinted, executed, adjacent.

Source analysis questions

- How would you describe the drawing style of the advertisement? Look at the line work, the amount of detail, and the thickness, shape and length of the lines.
- What effect or ideas does this style create in the advertisement?
- Why would S T Gill create an advertisement in this style? Think about the humorous figures, the detailed images and the multiple scenes.

Murderous Melbourne (Activity sheet, p. 46)

The symptoms of typhoid include high fever, headaches, diarrhoea and vomiting. It is caused by a bacteria called Salmonella Typhi. This disease is easily passed on through poor hygiene and contaminated food and drinking water. It can cause severe illness and even death. It is now uncommon in Australia. But in colonial times, it was more common in places where sewerage contaminated water sources and people's living conditions were poor.

Source analysis questions

- What does the term 'poor sanitation' mean? What are some examples?
- Why would people living in Melbourne at this time put up with such poor conditions?
- What sorts of people would be living in poor conditions? Would they be rich or poor? What would their jobs be?
- How accurate do you think the statistics are? Think about the uncontrolled population boom at this time and the unregulated tent cities.

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://minerva-access.unimelb.edu.au/handle/11343/36614

http://ergo.slv.vic.gov.au/explore-history/golden-victoria/life-fields/st-gill

https://collections.museumvictoria.com.au/articles/2676 http://ergo.slv.vic.gov.au/explore-history/golden-victoria/impact-society/architecture-infrastructure

Further reading

Grishin, S. S T Gill and his audiences, National Library of Australia, Australia, 2015.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

S T Gill

English artist Samuel Thomas Gill (1818–80) painted Melbourne and the gold diggings in Victoria and New South Wales. He recorded what he saw in a detailed and direct way.

Source 1

Coach parties turning into Bourke Street from Elizabeth Street*, S. T. Gill. 1867 SLV H2007.54/1
Pen, brush and wash over pencil traces; sheet 22.3 x 32.2 cm

Source 2

Digger's wedding*, Melbourne 1853 SLV H25973
S.T Gill
watercolour painting, 18.1 x 25.1 cm.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Comparing artworks

☞ Use the Resource sheet, 'S T Gill', to answer the questions.

Source 1: Coach parties turning into Bourke Street from Elizabeth Street This image shows newly wealthy diggers spending their money on a fake wedding. Brides were hired by the day or hour from Melbourne hotels.	Source 2: Digger's wedding This image shows people returning from a race meeting at Flemington. The building with columns is Melbourne's General Post Office, the site of Gill's death.
What type of source is this?	What type of source is this?
Who made it?	Who made it?
During the gold rush, Melbourne was one of the wealthiest cities in the world. Describe three examples in the image that support this statement. 1 2 3	What does this image tell you about the impact of gold on Melbourne? Think about: • what some people spent money on • how people lived.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

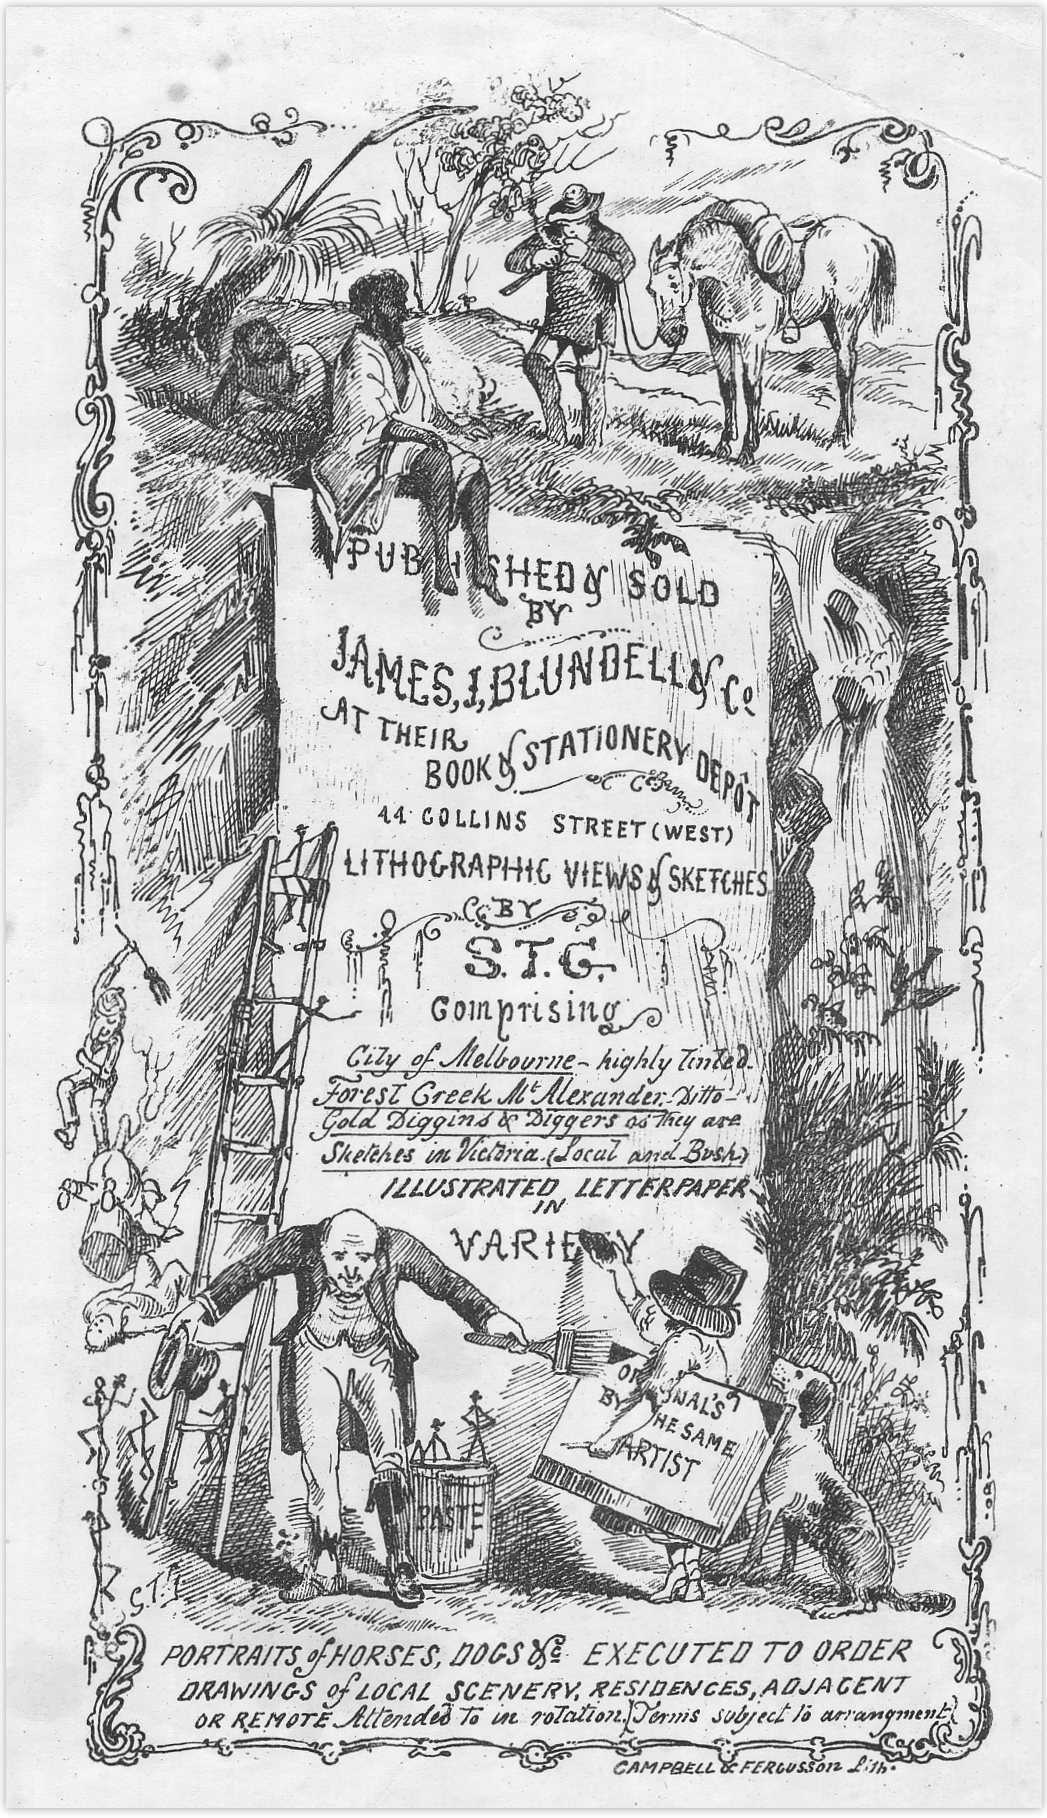
© Blake Education 2020

The working artist

Samuel Thomas Gill made his living from creating artworks for advertisements and painting portraits of people, animals and scenery.

His work was popular in Australia as it showed how people lived in the colony.

This image is one of four advertisements by S T Gill for the publisher James J Blundell, the artist himself, and the printers Campbell & Ferguson.



Advertisement pages from an exhibition catalogue, S. T Gill 1818–1880 artist.
Melbourne, Victoria: James J. Blundell & Co. ; 1856
4 prints (1 sheet): engraving, black & white ; 22.5 x 14.4 cm., unfolded 22.5 x 28.6 cm.

© Blake Education 2020
ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

Catalogue pages – S T Gill

☞ Use the Resource sheet, 'The working artist', to answer the questions.

1 Gill included fun stick figures in many of his advertisements. Circle them, and any other unusual or funny parts of the image. Why are they included?

2 Highlight the part of the image that shows Indigenous people. What does this image suggest about Indigenous people living in the Melbourne area at this time?

3 Highlight another part of the image that stands out to you. Why did you choose this part?

4 What does the whole image suggest to you about the environment around Melbourne and life at this time?

5 According to the words in the advertisement, what subjects does Gill show in his lithographs?

6 Why would people living in Melbourne want images of these subjects? What would they do with the images?

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Murderous Melbourne

Gold made Melbourne a very rich and prosperous city. But the population grew too quickly. Many people lived in tents in South Melbourne and Prahran. Overcrowding and poor housing and sanitation meant that disease could spread easily.

1 Which year had the most deaths from typhoid in Melbourne?

_____

2 Write two summary sentences about the number of deaths in Melbourne from typhoid, 1869–1878.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

3 Imagine you are a Melburnian living in a tent in South Melbourne in 1878. Use the sources on this page to help you write a paragraph about typhoid in your community.

Source 1

This number is at a rate of six deaths for every 10,000 persons living - a very high mortality equalling the very worst towns in Great Britain ...

Source 2

The following are 'the exact numbers (of deaths from typhoid) as supplied to me at the Government Statist's office'.

Year.	Deaths.	Year.	Deaths.
1869	116	1874	216
1870	171	1875	200
1871	126	1876	160
1872	112	1877	249
1873	115	1878	307
Total ...	640	Total ...	1132
Yearly average	128	Yearly average	226.4

Source: Typhoid fever in Melbourne in 1878, Letters to The Argus, 1879.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

8 Teacher's notes – Symbols of Federation

Objectives

- Discover how everyday objects reflect Australia's origins and public opinions after Federation
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Think about information from a source that could be used as evidence in a historical argument
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past

Prior knowledge

Students should understand the key events that led to Federation, and what the main elements of the Australian flag represent. They should also have some knowledge of the White Australia policy.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

Stamps (Activity sheet, p. 48)

The 1911 winning stamp design by Herman Altmann was probably rejected by Charles Fraser because the stamp included the image of royalty. Fraser most likely felt this did not tell the story of the new nation of Australia very well. It is also a very complex image and would be difficult to print. It was later rejected again for this reason. It is also quite difficult to see all the elements of the design because they are finely detailed.

Source analysis questions

- What elements of Australian society do stamps celebrate or represent today?
- Do today's stamps advertise Australia to the rest of the world?
- When will stamps become a thing of the past?

A national flag competition (Resource sheet, p. 50)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source.

Source 1: emblematic, out of compliments to the States, embellishment, The "Jack", affiliated with one in the North Sea.

Source 2: réchauffé, no artistic virtue, no national significance, What more natural than that he should accept his father's cut-down garments.

réchauffé: a dish of warmed-up food, left over from a previous meal

The Australian flag consists of a blue background, the Union Jack (representing links to England), the Commonwealth Star (with seven points representing the unity of the six states and the territories of the Commonwealth of Australia), and the Southern Cross (a constellation of five stars that can only be seen from the southern hemisphere).

We're all Australians Now (Resource sheet, p. 51)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source: ply, prow, bough.

In 1915, Banjo Paterson wrote the fourteen verse poem, 'We're all Australians Now', as an open letter to Australian troops. 'Sydney' is the battleship HMAS Sydney. This ship was flying the Australian flag when it defeated the German warship SMS Emden.

Source analysis questions

- What emotions and ideals does this poem suggest?
- Who is the audience of the poem? What effect do you think the poem had on its audience?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.australia.gov.au/about-government/how-government-works/federation https://www.peo.gov.au/learning/closer-look/federation-cl.html

Further reading

Breckon, Richard, The 1913 Kangaroo and Map stamps – A Controversial 'Advertisement for Australia', Gibbons Stamp Monthly, 2005

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Stamps

☞ 1 Cross out the eleven incorrectly spelled words.
Write the correct spelling above each error.

Before Federation in 1901, ech state had its own postal sistem and stamps. While one Commonweath postal system was quickly formd after Federation, it was not until 1913 that a series of Australian Commonwealth stamps was produted.

A competition woz held to design the first Commonwealth stamp (Source 1), but the Post Masta General, Charles Frazer, proposed another desine (Source 2).

State stamps in the late 1800s showed feetures of the state or images of royalty (Sources 3 and 4).

Charles Fraser believed that an Australian Commonwealth stamp should advertise the newly federated country to the wreast of the world.

Source 1

Winning stamp design by Herman Altmann, featuring King George V, 1911

Source 2

First Commonwealth stamp, 1913

Source 3

Western Australia stamp, 1902

Source 4

Tasmania stamp, 1899

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

British and Western influences

☞ Use the Activity sheet, 'Stamps', to complete the activities.

Postmaster-General Charles Fraser was strongly criticised in 1912 for his choice of the kangaroo–map design (Source 2) for the first Commonwealth stamp set. He said in support of the design:

Source 5

A postage stamp is one of the best advertising mediums that the country can have ... In designing our stamp we have put into it an outline of the coast of Australia. The stamp shows a White Australia, indicating the Commonwealth's policy in regard to its population.

Source: Charles Fraser to the House of Representatives, 5th Parliament · 1st Session, 21 August 1913 http://historichansard.net/hofreps/1913/19130821_reps_5_70/

1 Study Sources 1 to 4 on the Activity sheet, 'Stamps', and Source 5 above. Then complete the table.

What do you first notice about the four stamps?	What people and objects are shown on the four stamps? Why do you think these were chosen?
What do the sources tell you about what was important to white Australians at the time of Federation?	Suggest two reasons why the Postmaster-General might have rejected the competition winner.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

A national flag competition

In January 1911, Prime Minister Edmund Barton held a competition to design a flag to represent the new Commonwealth of Australia. Five joint winners shared the prize, and the flag was flown for the first time on 3 September 1901 at the Exhibition Building in Melbourne.

Source 1 (Before the competition winners were announced)

A National Flag

The national flag question is becoming a warm one … opinions rage through the press as to what the flag should contain to make it emblematic.

Someone wants bars, out of compliments to the States, which shouldn't be entertained … Someone wants a kangaroo, but though this is typical enough, it is hoped that the successful artist will not embrace it, as the 'roo looks ratty … One thing that should go on the flag is the Southern cross, with six stars, and each star would stand for a State without further embellishment. The "Jack" in the corner would complete a true heraldic design — the flag of a nation in the Pacific, affiliated with one in the North Sea. For official purposes the field could be blue, not too light and not too dark …

Source: Clarence and Richmond Examiner (Grafton, NSW: 1889–1915) Sat 27 Apr 1901, Page 4

Source 2 (About the design that won the competition)

… a staled réchauffé of the British flag, with no artistic virtue, no national significance ... Minds move slowly: and Australia is still Britain's little boy. What more natural than that he should accept his father's cut-down garments, — lacking the power to protest, and only dimly realising his will. That bastard flag is a true symbol of the bastard state of Australian opinion.

Source: The Bulletin magazine, 28 September 1901

Definition

réchauffé: a dish of warmed-up food, left over from a previous meal

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

We're all Australians Now

In 1915, Andrew Barton 'Banjo' Paterson wrote the fourteen verse poem, 'We're all Australians Now', as an open letter to Australian troops.

In this poem, 'Sydney' is the battleship HMAS Sydney. This ship was flying the Australian flag when it defeated the German warship SMS Emden.

Here are Verses 6, 7 and 14.

Our six-starred flag that used to fly
Half shyly to the breeze,
Unknown where older nations ply
Their trade on foreign seas.

Flies out to meet the morning blue
With Victory at the prow;
For that's the flag the Sydney flew,
The wide seas know it now!

And with Australia's flag shall fly
A spray of wattle bough,
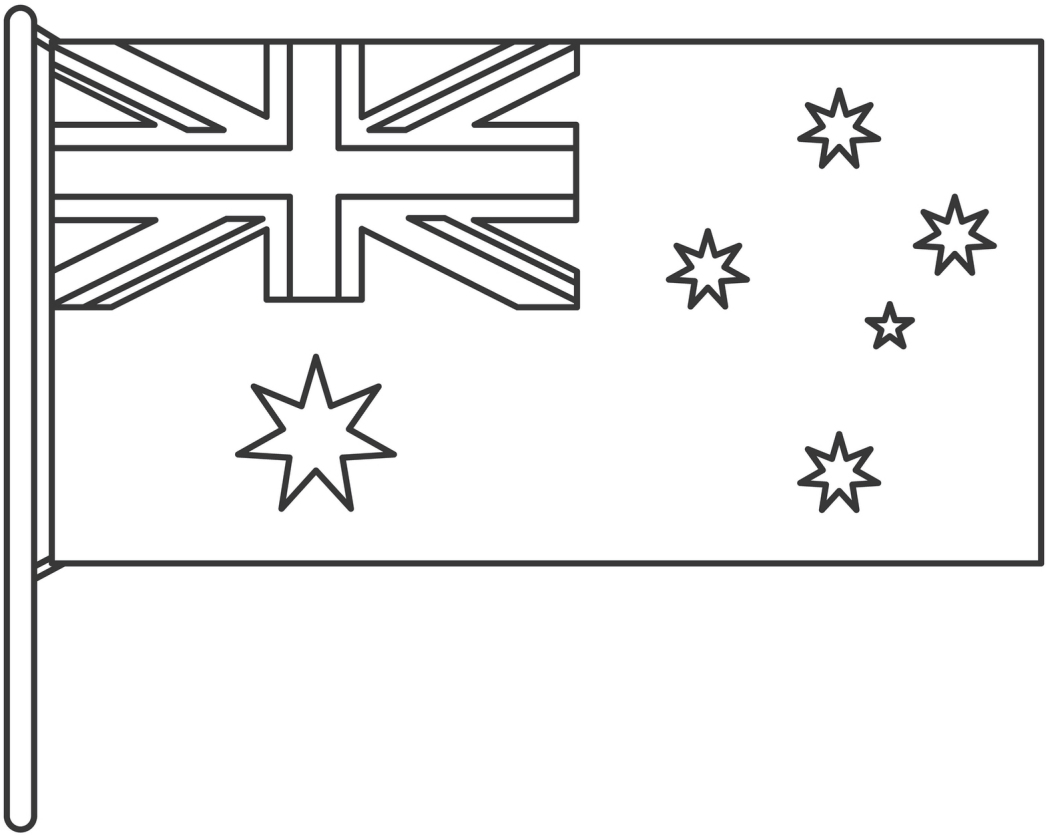
To symbolise our unity,
We're all Australians now.



ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Analysing sources

☞ Use the Resource sheets, 'A national flag competition' and 'We're all Australians Now', to complete the activities.

Audience and main ideas

1 Who do you think was the audience of the source?

- Source 1 _____
- Source 2 _____
- Source 3 _____

2 What are the main ideas in the source?

- Source 1 _____

_____

- Source 2 _____

_____

- Source 3 _____

_____

Developing your own point of view

3 In your opinion, how well did the flag represent the Australian nation in 1901? Think about who lived there, and their beliefs or ideals.

_____

_____

_____

4 How well do you think the flag represents the Australian nation today? Give reasons to support your answer.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

9 Teacher's notes – The Franchise Act

Achieve!

Objectives

- Learn about the role of Vida Goldstein in the fight for women's suffrage
- Explore various opinions about women having the vote
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past

Prior Knowledge

Students should have a basic knowledge of the events that led to adult white women gaining the right to vote in federal elections. They should also know which groups of people were excluded from The Franchise Act, The Harvester Judgement of 1908 and the 1912 Fruitpickers Judgement.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

The Australian Woman's Sphere* journal (Resource sheet, p.54)

'I am a human being, and I believe that nothing human is outside my sphere.' Terence

Terence (c. 195/185 – c. 159 BCE) was a Roman comic playwright.

In the 1900s, it was a common belief that a woman's life or place (her sphere) in society should be based around the home and raising children. The use of Terence's quote in the title of Goldstein's publication suggests that a woman's intellect and abilities meant she was capable of being engaged in politics and broader social ideas and reforms.

Rasawatte tea is imported tea from the British colony of Ceylon (modern-day Sri Lanka) during the early 1900s.

Source analysis questions

- What is your overall impression of the illustration? What stands out the most? What is the most interesting detail?

Vida Goldstein (Activity sheet, p. 56)
Source analysis questions

- What do you think the word 'Torture' refers to in this image?

What the politicians said (Activity sheet, p. 57)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source: honourable, compunction, drudge, wretched pittance, vulgarization of women, confer, dire, heretofore.

Source analysis questions

- Which quote do you feel most strongly about? Use examples to explain your response.
- What does each source suggest about the relationship between men and women at this time?
- What do the sources suggest about the role of women and men in society at this time?
- What types of men would be elected to parliament at this time? What might their age, ethnicity and class be?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.foundingdocs.gov.au/item-sdid-88.html

https://australia-explained.com.au/aussie-mavericks/vida-goldstein

A digital version of a copy of The Australian Woman's Sphere:
https://trove.nla.gov.au/goto?i=x&w=18790223&d=http%3A%2F%2Fdigital.sl.nsw.gov.au%2Fdelivery%2FDeliveryManagerServlet%3Fembedded%3Dtrue%26toolbar%3Dfalse%26dps_pid%3DIE10391528&s=V176JqoKx9T8rN2WJD0syx%2Fke4k09sT6I5DrH6eEftM%3D

Additional reading

Bomford, J.M, That Dangerous and Persuasive Woman – Vida Goldstein, Melbourne University Press, Melbourne, 1990.

Goldstein, V, Woman Suffrage in Australia. Republished by the Victorian Women's Trust, Melbourne, 2008.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

The Australian Woman's Sphere journal

SINGER SEWING MACHINES

ENJOY - - - A CUP OF RASAWATTE TEA!

SINGER SEWING MACHINES

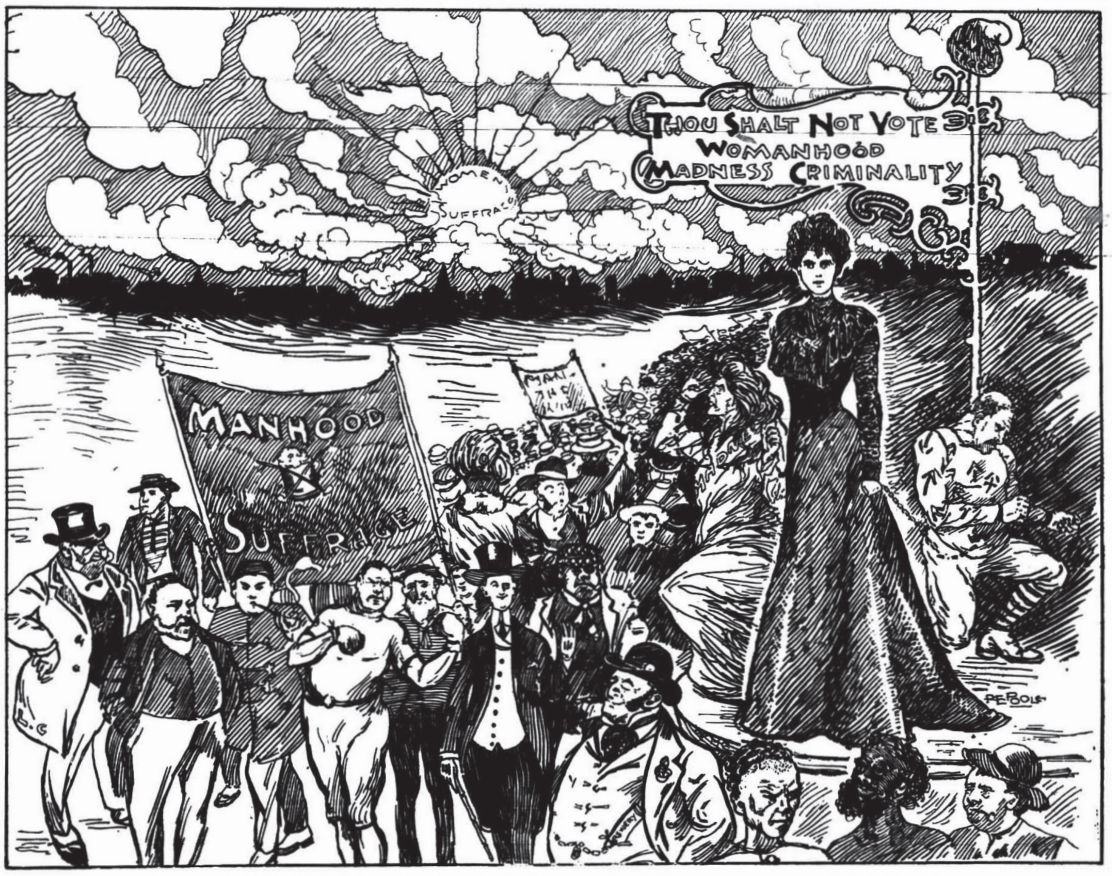
The Australian

Woman's Sphere

I am a human being, and I believe nothing human is outside my sphere.—TERENCE.

Registered at the General Post Office, Melbourne, for Transmission by Post as a Newspaper.

VOL. III., No. 32. MELBOURNE, APRIL 8, 1903. PRICE, TWO PENCE.



DON'T!

DON'T Throw Away Your Spoons, Forks, Cruets, Tea and Coffee Services, Salvers, Etc. Send them to

JOHN DANKS & SON,
Proprietary, Limited,
391 BOURKE STREET, MELBOURNE,
To be Replated Equal to New.

The Best House for Gasaliers, Globes, Mantelpieces, Fenders, Ovens, Etc. Sole Agents for Boyle's Celebrated Ventilators and Chimney Cowls.

MRS. MOFFIT, Late Buyer and Manager Messrs. GEORGE & GEORGE Ltd.

ATHENÆUM BUILDINGS,
192 COLLINS STREET. NEXT COFFEE PALACE.

Mantles, Costumes, Blouses Raincloaks, Coats, Evening Coats, Children's Coats.

NEWEST AUTUMN GOODS. EVERY ARTICLE IS THE LATEST FASHION.

The Australian Woman's Sphere, Volume 3 Number 32. 8 April 1903 La Trobe Collection, State Library Victoria

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

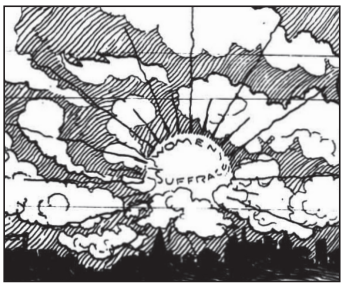
Journal cover image analysis

The Australian Woman's Sphere (1900–05) was a journal that raised awareness of the women's suffrage campaign, and money for it.

☞ Complete this table to analyse the cartoon on the Resource sheet, 'The Australian Woman's Sphere'.

Write the words you can see in the image.

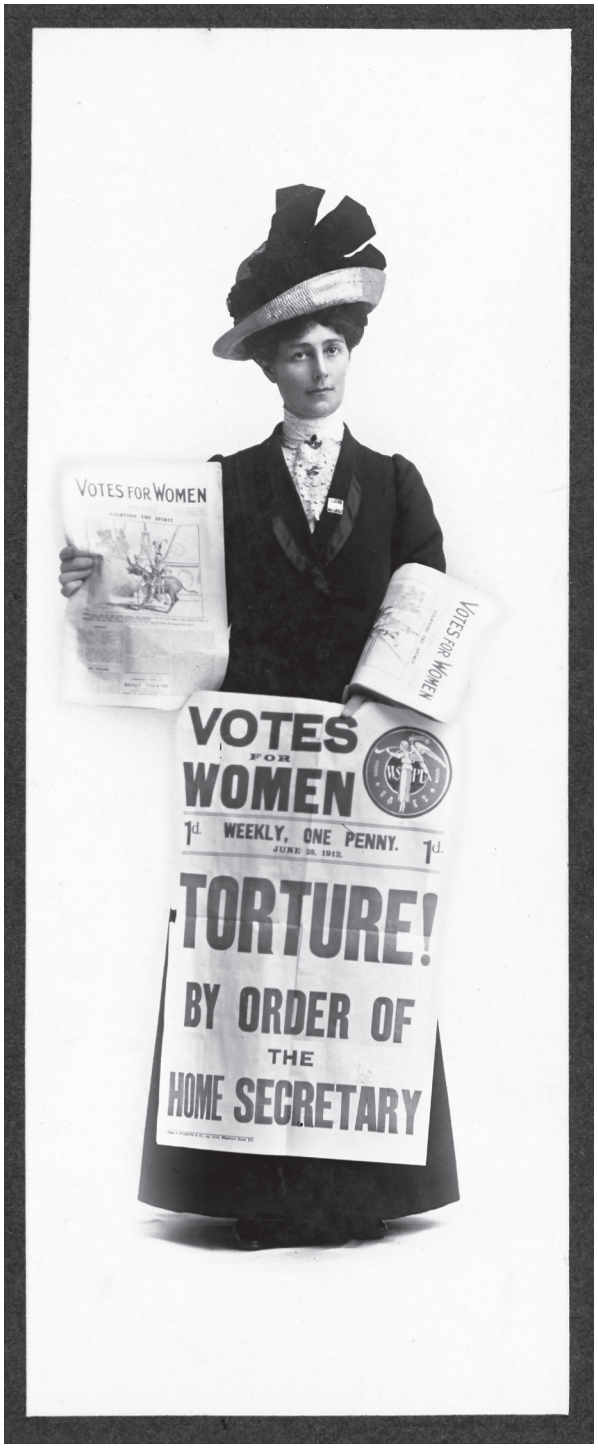
Image detail	Who or what does the image represent?	What does this image mean? Why is it used in this part of the cartoon?
	Vida Goldstein is the woman in the black dress and …



ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Vida Goldstein



T. Humphrey & Co. photographer. (1930). Vida Goldstein Selling "Votes for Women" Newspaper., Maurice Blackburn, Papers, SLV MS 11749

Vida Goldstein (1869–1949) devoted her life to improving the rights and welfare of Australian women and children. She was an important figure in the fight for women's suffrage, and editor of The Australian Woman's Sphere.

Justice H.B. Higgins used Goldstein's calculation of a living wage to help him complete his Harvester Judgement, 1908.

☞ Study the images of Vida Goldstein on this page and the Resource sheet, 'The Australian Woman's Sphere journal'. Then complete the sentences.

1 What she looks like and wears tells me that …

2 The way she is portrayed in the cartoon 'The Australian Woman's Sphere' makes me think that …

3 If Ms Goldstein was alive today, what I think she'd say about women voting is …

4 If Ms Goldstein was an elected member of federal government today, I think she would …

5 If women didn't vote, I think one difference in today's society would be …

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

What the politicians said

☞ Circle the quotes that support women being given the vote.

The main ambition of a woman's life should be to become the wife of an honourable and honest man.

Source: William Knox, Free Trade Party, Victoria, House of Representatives; 23 April 2002, p.11941

Only yesterday I heard a woman say that she did not think it would be safe to confer this right on women, because very dire things were likely to follow. It is alleged that women would be influenced by the clergy, by good-looking candidates and by young men.

Source: Thomas Glassey, Protectionist Party Queensland; Senate, 9 April 1902, p.11474

The very men who say that giving a woman a vote would degrade her, have not the slightest compunction about making her a drudge. They do not regard it as degrading for a woman to black a man's boots. Oh, no! It is not degrading for her to scrub a floor or to be turned into a stuffy kitchen to cook for a man, or to be put into a factory where she will have to work nine or ten hours a day for a wretched pittance. None of these things will degrade a woman, but to give her a voice in the government of the country will degrade her!

Source: James Stewart Queensland, Australian Labor Party Queensland; Senate, 9 April 1902, p.11499

I am firmly of the opinion that the extension of the franchise to women will cause men to take more interest in political matters, and to vote in larger numbers than they have done heretofore. The fact that wives and daughters in the home will be able to discuss political subjects which affect everyday life, will bring to the mind of the male portion of the community the necessity for recording their votes at election time.

Source: Sir William Lyne, Hume, Protectionist Party Minister for Home Affairs; House of Representatives, 23 April 1902, pp. 11930 -31

I believe that if we now decide to go in for womanhood suffrage it will tend to the vulgarization of women, and that none of us desires.

Source: Edward Pulsford, Free Trade Party, New South Wales; Senate, 9 April 1902, p. 11466

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

Arguments for and against women's suffrage

☞ Choose one quote FOR women's suffrage and one quote AGAINST women's suffrage from the Activity sheet, 'What the politicians said'. Use these two quotes to complete the table.

For	Against
Use a dictionary to help you rewrite the quote in your own words.
What does the quote suggest about the speaker's beliefs about women?
What does the quote suggest about the place of women in Australian society in the early 1900s?
Write an argument responding to one of the quotes.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

10 Teacher's notes – Laws

Achieve!

Objectives

- Review laws that changed the working and living conditions of Australians
- Identify the origin, purpose and context of primary sources
- Identify and analyse the perspectives of people from the past
- Identify and analyse different historical interpretations

Prior knowledge

Students should have some understanding of the issues that relate to The Harvester Judgement, The Immigration Restriction Act and The Maternity Allowance.

Resource and Activity sheets: Keywords and ideas, additional source analysis questions

The Harvester Judgement (Activity sheet, p. 60)
Source analysis questions

- What would it be like working with this machine? Think about the smells and sounds farmers would experience.

A fair wage (Activity sheet, p. 61)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source:
Source 2: remuneration
Source 3: frugal, Implement Makers.

Source analysis questions

- (Source 2) If a factory owner only paid their workers based on the profits they made, how would this make a worker feel? How could it impact on families?
- (Source 3) Why doesn't this woman know how much her husband earns? What does this say about the status of women in society at this time?

The Immigration Restriction Act (Activity sheet, p. 62)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source: prohibited, dictation, charitable institution, infectious or contagious disease, loathsome or dangerous character, pardon, prostitute, manual labour, exempted, engaged, specified therein.

Source analysis questions

- Who do you think decided who might be a 'loathsome or dangerous character'?
- Describe how this type of Act could be open to corruption.

The Maternity Allowance (Activity sheet, p. 63)
Source analysis questions

- The government chose not to give the Maternity Allowance to certain groups of people. What is the government saying about these groups of people by excluding them?

What the papers said (Activity sheet, p. 64)

Students should understand the meaning of these words and phrases, as used in the context of the source:

Source 1: grievous, Wowser wolves, deprived of the share of the spoil, provision, distribute

Source 2: abhorrence, degrading, an incentive to immorality, uphold the purity and standard of family life.

Source analysis questions

- What do you think was bought with the allowance?
- Do you think the allowance encouraged more women to have children? Why or why not?
- Why was immorality so important in that time? How important is immorality today?
- Why was the allowance given to the mother and not the father? In what ways did this go against the social conventions of the time?

Suggested websites

Suggested website addresses were functional at the time of publication, but teachers should check them for inappropriate content and to ensure that they are still functional before use with students.

https://www.naa.gov.au/explore-collection/immigration-and-citizenship/immigration-restriction-act-1901

https://www.nma.gov.au/defining-moments/resources/harvester-judgement

https://www.nma.gov.au/defining-moments/resources/white-australia-policy https://opus.lib.uts.edu.au/bitstream/10453/11435/1/2009001270OK.pdf

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

The Harvester Judgement

☞ 1 Use this string of words to complete the paragraphs on this Activity sheet and the Activity sheet, 'A fair wage'.

JudgementafterVictoriawerecutcompanybyeconomyworkerswagesshouldno governmenttaxcouldfairsetminimumbasedtheTheratewasneededevidence

The Harvester _____ is named _____ a factory in Sunshine, _____, where grain harvesting machines _____ made. These machines _____ and processed grain. The _____ was owned ____ H.V. McKay.

As the Australian _____ began to grow, _____ demanded that _____ and living standards _____ improve. There was ____ law that allowed the _____ to influence wage rates. But they could _____ agricultural machinery. McKay _____ avoid the tax if his workers were paid '_____ and reasonable' wages.

2 Look closely at the image of the harvester. What types of workers do you think worked at the factory in Sunshine? Think about what the machine is made from and how it might be put together.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Source 1

Vic Stewart reaping with an AL Sunshine Harvester at Wharminda, South Australia, c. 1920 State Library of South Australia, Wharminda Collection, B 29795

3 How do you think this machine changed work and life on Australian farms?

_____

_____

_____

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

A fair wage

☞ Use the information and the string of words from the Activity sheet, 'The Harvester Judgement' to complete the activities.

Source 2

The 1908 judgement _____ out what a fair _____ wage was for unskilled and skilled male workers. It was _____ on what was fair rather than on what _____ employer offered.

"Under the Act the remuneration of the employee is not dependent on the profits of a particular employer. The conditions of the remuneration must be fair and reasonable whether the profits are small or great …"

Source: Opening paragraphs from the Harvester Decision, Commonwealth Arbitration Reports [C.A.R.] Ex parte H.V. McKay (Harvester Case), (1907) 2 CAR 1

4 What is remuneration? _____

5 Why might a factory owner only want to pay their workers based on the profits they make?

_____

Source 3

_____ minimum wage _____ was based on how much it _____ thought a married couple with three children _____ to live in 'frugal comfort'. Some women provided _____ to help work out how much money was needed to support a family.

I am a married woman living in Bay Street, Port Melbourne. I have six children. My husband is secretary to the Agricultural Implement Makers' Union. I do not know what he earns but he gives me £2-10-0 [two pound, ten shillings] a week. This is not enough to keep the family going.

Source: Kate Russell, Testimony 1907 Ex parte HV McKay Harvester Case, Federal Court Arbitration and Conciliation. https://collections.museumvictoria.com.au/articles/15931

6 Use a dictionary to write your own definition of 'frugal comfort'.

_____

7 What do you think a lifestyle of 'frugal comfort' would be in 1901? How about in 2020?

_____

_____

_____

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

The Immigration Restriction Act

The Immigration Restriction Act of 1901 was used to control the type of migrant entering Australia. In particular, it was used to restrict the entry of Asians and Pacific Islanders. Some people believed these groups would accept low wages and so be a source of cheap labour.

Word bank
- Australian
- contagious
- crew
- institution
- length
- manual
- Minister
- offence
- officer
- pardon

☞ 1 Use the word bank to complete the Act and find out more about who was excluded from Australia.

3. The immigration into the Commonwealth of the persons described in any of the following paragraphs of this section (hereinafter called "prohibited immigrants") is prohibited, namely:--

(a) Any person who when asked to do so by an _____ fails to write out at dictation and sign in the presence of the officer a passage of fifty words in _____ in an European language directed by the officer;

(b) any person likely in the opinion of the _____ or of an officer to become a charge upon the public or upon any public or charitable _____;

(c) any idiot or insane person;

(d) any person suffering from an infectious or _____ disease or a loathsome or dangerous character;

(e) any person who has within three years been convicted of an _____, not being a mere political offence, and has been sentenced to imprisonment for one year or longer therefore, and has not received a _____;

(f) any prostitute or person living on the prostitution of others;

(g) any persons under a contract or agreement to perform _____ labour within the Commonwealth: Provided that this paragraph shall not apply to workmen exempted by the Minister for special skill required in Australia or to persons under contract or agreement to serve as part of the ____ of a vessel engaged in the coasting trade in _____ waters if the rates of wages specified therein are not lower than the rates ruling in the Commonwealth.

Source: Immigration Restriction, No. 17 of 1901, assented to 23rd December, 1901.

Answer these questions in your workbook.

2 List ten European languages someone might have to use to write a passage of fifty words (clause (a)).

3 What types of workers do you think were exempt under clause (g)?

4 Could you pass this test? Explain why.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020

The Maternity Allowance

☞ 1 Write the missing vowels (a, e, i, o, u).

The A__stralian federal g__vernment introd__ced the Mat__rnity Allowanc__ in 1912. Five po__nds was p__id to married and __nmarried moth__rs on the b__rth of a ch__ld. This mon__y was w__rth two w__eks of pay f__r an unqu__lified work__r. The all__wance had t__ be appl__ed for with__n thr__e months __f the birth __f a child and w__s paid dir__ctly to moth__rs.

Source 1

The North Western Courier* (Narrabri) Page 2, 28 July 1913

… women who are Asiatics, or are aboriginal natives of Australia, Papua or the islands in the Pacific, shall not be paid the maternity allowance. The question was recently raised as to whether this restriction prevented half-caste women from obtaining the allowance.

2 Why weren't these groups of women given the Maternity Allowance? Think about other laws and beliefs that existed at the time.

Source 2

Barrier Miner* (Broken Hill) Page 2, Friday 16th August 1912

The gift is not intended to be one in the form of charity, but recognition by the Commonwealth of its duty to take some part in the raising of that population of which it stands in so much need.

3 Why did the government want to increase the population?

4 Which groups of people do you think the government wanted to increase? Why?

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

© Blake Education 2020

Achieve!

What the papers said

☞ Use the Activity sheet, 'The Maternity Allowance', to answer the questions.

Source 1

Truth* (Brisbane) Page 4, Sunday 29 September 1912, 'Fischer's Fiver'

Coming as it will at a time when most needed, it will represent wealth to poor mothers, who often lack the means to nourish themselves properly.

… The Bill will be a grievous disappointment to the Wowser wolves, who find that they are deprived of the share of the spoil which would have stuck to fingers if provision had been made to distribute the allowance through the agency of the churches or institutions.

5 Who were the 'Wowser wolves'? Use a dictionary to check the meaning of 'wowser'. Think about the idea or image a 'wolf' creates.

6 Why could churches want to distribute the money?

Source 2

The Mercury* (Hobart) 6 October 1912

[The Ladies' Christian Association] regard with abhorrence the measure now before the Commonwealth Parliament to make a maternity allowance as degrading to womankind, an enemy to family life, and an incentive to immorality, and would urgently appeal to everyone, man and woman, to uphold the purity and standard of family life, in which love and kindness in sickness and in health form the bond which has kept us together under God's love for so many years.

7 Explain why some people saw this allowance as 'an enemy to family life' and 'an incentive to immorality'.

ISBN 978-0-6481150-8-3

 © Blake Education 2020